TREES COLLAPSE, ROOFS FLY AS CYCLONE STRIKES

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

CYCLONE Biparjoy made landfall in Gujarat on Thursday evening, uprooting trees, blowing away rooftops of buildings and damaging boats as strong winds, destructive waves, and heavy rains lashed the coastal areas of Kutch and Saurashtra districts.

There was no immediate reports of any loss of life, though three persons were injured in Devbhumi Dwarka district after a tree fell on them.

The India Meteorological Department (IMD) said the landfall process started around 5.30 pm on Thursday and would continue till midnight. Landfall indicates a cyclonic storm moving over land after being over water.

The IMD had warned of extensive damage to standing crops, houses, roads, electricity and telecom poles, and flooding of low-lying areas.

The cyclone is having a disastrous effect in Devbhumi Dwarka district with torrential rains accompanied by high-speed winds wreaking havoc on land and waves as high as 20 feet lashing the shores.

Classified as a Category 3 (very severe cyclonic storm), Biparjoy (which means disaster in Bengali) appeared to have lost some of its intensity. "The cyclone's speed has dropped in the past few hours to 115–125 kmph. But, the administration continues to be cautious as the threat has not yet been eliminated," Gujarat Commissioner of Relief Alok Kumar Pandey said on Thursday evening. The top windspeed was estimated at 150 kmph on Wednesday.

Ahead of the cyclone's arrival, the authorities had evacuated residents of coastal districts to safer places. Atul Karwal, director-general, National Disaster Response Force, said one lakh people have been shifted. These include 1,100 pregnant women and 8,900 children. "Fishing boats have been anchored, large ships have been sent to high seas, and more than 4,000 hoardings have been taken down," he added.

On Thursday, Gujarat Chief Minister Bhupendra Patel reviewed the situation at a high-level meeting held at the State Emergency Operation Centre in Gandhinagar.

Schools across Ahmedbabd, Kheda, Anand and other affected areas will remain closed on Friday in view of the cyclone.

Anti-Conversion, APMC Acts to go?

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Congress Government on Thursday decided to roll back the previous BJP government's amendments made to the Anti-Conversion and Agricultural Produce Market Committee (APMC) Acts. At a cabinet meeting here, it also decided to remove the changes made by the BJP government in school textbooks, including deletion of lessons on Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) founder KB Hedgewar and pioneer of Hindu nationalist political ideology of Hindutva, Veer Savarkar, from this academic year.

The meeting approved a proposal to buy rice from other states to implement the 'Anna Bhagya' guarantee which promises 10 kg of rice per person belonging to below poverty line (BPL) families. "These were part of our manifesto," said Minister for Law and Parliamentary Affairs HK Patil.

Patil told reporters that they were removing amendments made to the Karnataka Protection of Right to Freedom of Religion Act (known as Anti-Conversation Act) that was passed by the BJP government. "We will place this before the legislative session that will start from July 3," he said.

The amendments by the previous government had increased the prison term from three to five years with a fine of Rs 25,000. It also stressed that if the violation involved targeting minors, women, SC/ST, the prison term would increase from three to 10 years with a fine of Rs 50,000.

The amendment also brought in a jail term of 10 years and a fine up to Rs 1 lakh for mass conversion. The act had mandated persons wishing to convert to another religion to give a declaration in a prescribed format at least 30 days in advance to the respective deputy commissioners.

The Siddaramaiah government decided to bring in changes in school textbooks for students of Classes 6 to 10.

SCHOOL TEXTBOOKS TO SEE MORE REVISIONS

Karnataka state syllabus textbooks are set to see another change, as revisions have been approved by the state government during a cabinet meeting. Last year, several changes had been made to state syllabus textbooks, particularly in the Class-10 social science textbook. "The state government has now decided to make immediate amendments in the Class-10 textbooks, as they are being termed as 'most controversial'. However, changes in the textbooks of Classes 6-9 will be done gradually, in the coming years," said sources in the education department. P4

More arson keeps Manipur on boil

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

TWO houses were torched by miscreants in Imphal on Thursday even as the Manipur Tribal Forum filed a fresh interlocutory application in the Supreme Court accusing the Centre and Manipur Chief Minister N Biren Singh of jointly embarking on a communal agenda for the ethnic cleansing of Kukis.

The arson attack happened at New Checkon area. Security forces fired tear gas shells to disperse a mob that blocked their path. The Army said enhanced area domination operations were being undertaken in fringe areas and higher reaches. In the past fortnight, incidents of violence were reported mostly from such areas.

In their application, the Manipur Tribal Forum urged the SC not to rely on the "empty assurances" of the Centre. It said despite assurances, no relief has been granted so far.

"After the giving of these assurances, over 81 Kukis were killed, 237 churches and 73 administration building/quarter were burnt and 141 villages destroyed and 31,410 Kukis displaced from their homes. The assurances of the authorities are not useful anymore and made in a non-serious fashion and are not even intended to be implemented," the interlocutory application read.

Chargesheet filed against Brij Bhushan

UJWAL JALALI @ New Delhi

THE Delhi Police on Thursday filed a 1,082-page chargesheet in the sexual harassment case against sidelined Wrestling Federation of India president Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh at a local court. By doing so, they met the deadline set by top protesting wrestlers to prosecute Singh. However, the police also filed a cancellation report in the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) case that was lodged on the complaint of a 17-year-old wrestler against Singh.

"We have submitted a police report under Section 173 of the CrPC requesting cancellation of the POCSO case based upon statements of the complainant — the father of the victim — and the victim herself," Delhi Police spokesperson Suman Nalwa said.

As for the chargesheet, she said it was filed under sections 354 (criminal force to outrage woman's modesty), 354 A (sexual harassment) and 354 D (stalking) of the Indian Penal Code. Vinod Tomar, a close aide of Singh, was charged under Section 109 (abetment), 354 (outraging modesty), 354 A (sexual harassment) and 506 (criminal intimidation) of the IPC. The Congress came down heavily on the Centre after the police sought to withdraw POCSO charges. Half of the chargesheet focuses on how it is not a POCSO matter to give Singh a clean chit in the minor's case, it alleged.

In a related development, the police are expected to take back cases against wrestlers who created a ruckus near Jantar Mantar on the day the new Parliament building was inaugurated.

Man gets 7 yrs RI for robbing minor boy at knife-point

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

THE Special Court has sentenced a 29-year-old man for seven years of rigorous imprisonment for threatening and robbing a minor boy of his cell phone at knife-point in Begur police limits in the city.

The accused threatened the boy with a knife. The boy not only lost his cell phone but also his confidence and courage. The incident might leave a permanent scar in his mind, said Santhosh CB, Judge Special Court, in his order sentencing the accused, Govindaraj alias Parivala Putta, a resident of Kumaraswamy Layout.

The judge also issued a directive to place a copy of the judgment before the District Legal Services Authority for payment of compensation to the boy under the Victim Compensation Scheme. The complainant, Arya (name changed), aged 17, stated that Govindaraju and another person, who were riding a bike, stopped him and his younger brother at Devarachikkanahalli and threatened him with a knife to hand over his cell phone on May 18, 2020.

KCET RESULTS OUT, VIJAYAPURA, DK HIGHEST SCORING DISTRICTS

B'luru had most toppers followed by Dharwad, Ballari and Udupi

Parents and students at the CET cell in Bengaluru on Thursday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

VIJAYAPURA and Dakshina Kannada have emerged as the highest scoring districts in the Karnataka Common Entrance Test (KCET) conducted for admission to professional courses in the state. Higher Education Minister Dr MC Sudhakar announced the KCET results here on Thursday.

In all, 2.03 lakh candidates qualified for Engineering and Technology courses, 1.64 lakh for BSc (Agriculture), 1.66 lakh for BSc Veterinary Sciences, 1.66 lakh for Naturopathy and Yoga (BNYS), 2.06 lakh for B Pharma, and 2.06 lakh for Pharma-D courses. The results will be available on the Karnataka Examination Authority (KEA) website: kea.kar.nic.in. from 11am onwards Friday.

Vijayapura district registered the highest number of qualifying candidates for BNYS (89.19%), Engg (93.36%), BSc (Agri) (88.88%) and BSc Nursing (89.19%) courses. Dakshina Kannada registered the highest number of qualifying candidates for BPharma and Pharma-D courses with 95.35% and 95.44%, respectively.

Yadgiri registered the lowest number of qualifying candidates -- Pharma-D 9.78% and BSc (Agri) 5.61%.

According to KEA statistics, of the 2.6 lakh candidates who had applied for the test, 2.44 lakh appeared. Of the toppers, most are from Bengaluru, followed by Dharwad, Ballari and Udupi districts. One of the toppers, Kartik Manohar Simhasan, wrote the test from Rajasthan.

KEA Executive Director Ramya S said students were given a grace mark each in mathematics and physics papers.

Dr Sudhakar said the KEA decided to give rankings for nursing courses for the first time. While there has been resistance from nursing institutes to allotment of seats as per KCET, the allotment system will come into force from this academic year.

Two girls dominate PCB streams in KCET

DONNA EVA AND LISHA C JAIN
@ Bengaluru

MALAVIKA Kapoor and Prateeksha R have emerged toppers in this year's Karnataka Common Entrance Test (KCET), the results of which were declared on Thursday.

They wrote Physics, Chemistry and Biology (PCB) papers and dominated their related streams - Naturopathy and Yoga (BNYS), B Pharma, Pharma D, Veterinary Science and BSc Nursing -- with both of them either coming first or second.

Malavika from Mahesh PU College, Bengaluru, said she hopes to become a doctor. "I honestly wasn't expecting this high of a rank, but I am happy with the score I got. I am hoping to pursue a career in surgery, particularly in cardiology. Medicine is just something that always interested me," she said.

Meanwhile, the only topper writing KCET from outside Karnataka, Kartik Manohar Simhasan, has similar plans. He hails from Vijayapura. From Lady Anusuya Singhania Educational Academy, Kartik moved to Rajasthan to join Allen Career Institute for Coaching.

"My mother works as a doctor at a government hospital in Vijayapura and my father is an anaesthesiologist. My older sister is pursuing MBBS. I am hoping to follow in their footsteps, though I am not sure what discipline I want to pursue as yet," he said.

He secured NEET AIR of 105. He is also a topper in all PCB streams alongside Malavika and Prateeksha. Srijan MH, who hails from Hubballi and a student of BASE PU College, also bagged NEET AIR of 60. "I secured 60th rank in NEET by scoring 710/720. I hope to join Jawaharlal Institute of Postgraduate Medical Education & Research, Puducherry, or Al Azhar Medical College," he said.

App for filling forms

Higher Education Minister Dr MC Sudhakar said on Thursday that his department has taken steps to overcome the glitches in filling forms. An app is being developed to help students fill forms on a trial basis. This will help them ahead of applying for KCET, he added. He said programmes will be held in PU colleges across the state, where students will be trained in filling forms.

11 BBMP officials suspended in 'fake bills' scam

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

ELEVEN Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike have been suspended for allegedly generating fake bills worth Rs 118 crore for civil works in RR Nagar assembly constituency in Bengaluru Rural.

The Karnataka Lokayukta had launched a probe following a complaint by Bengaluru Rural MP D K Suresh, and submitted its report in January last year, finding sufficient grounds of malpractice. However, action was only initiated a few weeks after the Congress government came to power.

According to a government order, the suspended officials are: Dodaiah, Chief Engineer Technical Vigilance Committee under Commissioner (TVCC); Sateesh, Assistant Executive Engineer (AEE); Vijay Kumar, Chief Engineer (RR Nagar); Shilpa, Assistant Engineer (Technical); Mohan, Chief Engineer, RR Nagar (Projects); Bharathi, AEE(Projects), Basavaraj, Executive Engineer (Projects), Siddaramaiah, Assistant Engineer (129 ward, Jnanabharati ward); Umesh, AEE (73 Laggere Ward); Anitha, Superintendent Engineer (RR Nagar) and Gooli Gowda (Deputy Manager, Projects).

The MP had also alleged that there was destruction of evidence and manipulation of documents, and that the officials acted at the behest of the area MLA Munirathna Naidu.

This apart, RTI activists A Rangaswamy and HC Shivakumar had also complained that the work orders were issued in 2019 and funds were released in 2020. The activist contended that the scam is worth Rs 250 crore.

It is said that bills of 114 works were cleared in just two months in 2020, but only two works were executed.

No reversal of fee hike in engg colleges: Higher Edu Min

Bengaluru: Higher Education Minister Dr M C Sudhakar has clarified that there are no plans to reverse the fee hike imposed on engineering colleges by the previous government. He said the current administration has looked into the hike and all procedures have been followed, so it will be difficult to undo the change immediately. However, he said efforts will be made to reduce the hike eventually by at least five per cent. This will take time, so the change is unlikely to occur in this academic year. Meanwhile, speaking on the National Education Policy (NEP), he said a detailed discussion is being held on the issue as it involves both school and higher education. "We have to examine the issue in depth because it involves both primary and secondary education as well as higher education. It hasn't been implemented in schools apart from syllabus changes. But they have implemented NEP in higher education two years ago. So currently, we are collecting information as to what and where exactly are issues that need to be dealt with," he said. ENS

120 fell ill due to sewage in water supply

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

SEWAGE seeping into the water supply was the cause of the contamination that resulted in 120 people falling ill at an apartment complex in Electronic City on June 5, 2023, showed test results.

BBMP Special Commissioner (Health) Dr K V Thrilok Chandra received the results of the samples from the health department on Thursday.

He said two batches of water samples -- from the borewell supplying water to the building and a tap of a house in the complex -- were found to be contaminated with sewage water. "The focal point of sewage mixing in the building is still not known," said Thrilok Chandra.

He said instructions issued to shut down the borewell as well as test the water samples from neighbouring borewells to ensure that similar incidents do not arise. The residents of Mahaveer Ranches apartment on Hosa Road have been directed to arrange an alternative water source for the time being.

Consumption of the contaminated water resulted in 120 people, mostly children and senior citizens, falling sick with complaints of diarrhoea and vomiting.

Rajashri Das, an urban planner, explained that sewage and potable water pipelines criss-cross each other at multiple points, and such areas become more prone to water contamination.

"The city's infrastructure is extremely poor, most roads are always under construction, drains are desilted prior to the monsoon which can damage pipelines. Construction work by multiple agencies are attributed to leakages or pipe bursts. The city is always dug up," Das said.

Doctors advised people to be aware of changes in the colour of water and taste which can occur due to contamination with sewage.

Experts pointed out that the incident on Hosa Road raises multiple questions, including whether the groundwater is contaminated with sewage, or whether new pipelines being laid by BWSSB already have leaks that are undetected.

'Serve eggs in Indira Canteens'

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

WITH Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) mulling to make changes in the menu of Indira Canteens, former BBMP opposition leader Abdul Wajid said he will submit a proposal to the government to add eggs in the menu.

"A majority of working class and poor come to the canteens. Adding nutrition in the menu will only help them improve their health. Hence, a proposal in this regard will be given to the government and the BBMP," said Wajid.

Senior BBMP officials in the health section, who monitor the canteens and food quality, said a proposal was sent to the government to provide the same quantity of food for lunch and dinner. With regard to adding eggs, the officials said if the proposal is sent, it will be discussed and forwarded to the government for consideration.

Lauding the suggestion, former minister and MLA Munirathna Naidu said egg is good for health, but since many vegetarians also come to the public canteen, the egg counter should be made separate.

110 properties set to be razed in KR Puram

Bengaluru: The Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) is all set to demolish 110 properties in Mahadevapura and KR Puram as part of its stormwater drain encroachment removal drive. BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath told reporters on Thursday that the tahsildar has issued the eviction orders and instructed officials to complete the drive within the next 15 days. "We cleared around 25 properties in Mahadevapura and KR Puram recently. We will start the drive from Saturday," he said. ENS

Daily Starscope

16th June: Do the stars influence life on Earth? That's what some astrologers claim. However, the truth is rather different. The stars and planets act like hands on a clock, indicating the changing qualities of time. That's why a good astrologer can look forward and say that. 'this is a good day to get married', or 'this is an auspicious moment to start a new job'.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Over the past year there's been a subliminal message in your chart: that work should be for pleasure rather than duty. The opportunities which have opened, together with the frustrations they have sometimes stirred up, will soon be a thing of the past.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
There's a pleasant and enjoyable trend in your chart, one which should encourage you to be spontaneous, rather than tied down and hide-bound. Hopefully, employers, partners and others who are relying on you will give you the space you need. If they don't, they're making a big mistake.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The Moon is extra strong today - all day - and now is the time to catch up with domestic re-organisation which you had begun but never completed. Also, start to look at ways to lighten the atmosphere at work. You might also be prepared to speculate with future plans, dabbling in the untried and untested.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Tomorrow's influential and emotional Moon is already having an effect on your mood and you may have cause to breathe a sigh of relief at home. It's very important indeed to be constructive and not to dwell on feelings which may now be irrelevant.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
New decisions and personal choices could well be dominated by money - by what you can and can't afford. Please avoid the tendency to place a monetary value on relationships though, deciding, for example, that one person is 'worth more' than another.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
It's the Moon's presence in your chart that is making you feel even more emotional and sensitive than usual. By late afternoon, you'll have the choice whether to relax and enjoy yourself - or deal with deep-seated questions. Oh, and take the opportunity to pamper yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You may keep yourself to yourself as much as you want. There is a great deal to be gained from a spot of solitude, and if other people are not peepe-tually intruding on your thoughts, you'll come up with some remarkable ideas. Your imagination has no limits.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There will be a change of mood very soon, once you have adjusted to Mercury's fresh position. You'll be enjoying a wave of nostalgia, impressed by traditional values and appreciative of old-fashioned entertainments. It's even possible that someone might turn up unexpectedly from your past.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You should spare a thought for your personal life and consider whether you have spent too much time doing what other people want. Even if you still have too many responsibilities you should now try to take some time off. Honestly, you deserve a break!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
If money is a major issue lately, it's all to the good. You could be in line for an increase in your earnings, and it looks very much as if your best move now is to pursue unusual propositions which you may have ignored in the past. They might not work out, but at least you'll clarify your options.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Now that Uranus, one of your planetary rulers, is proving so obstinate, it looks very much as if you'll be obliged to go back over old ground. You have a golden opportunity to right old wrongs, but don't blame other people for your mistakes. That would be unfair!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
The atmosphere is generally helpful, although your personal life might be in need of a push. It takes courage to make the first contact with potential new friends or partners, but courage you now have. Once you realise that you're not going to be rejected, you'll feel much better.

However, it was recently found that the cancer had spread to the liver. His elder daughter too was diagnosed with cancer. Dejected by this, he took the extreme step of hanging himself in his house

Unused tablets add to biowaste, buyers bat for small quantities

70% of meds bought in 3 yrs unused, consumers want return option

PURAN CHOUDHARY @ Bengaluru

WITH growing diagnosis of various diseases, biomedical waste in the country is also piling up. Karnataka produces 77,369 kg of biomedical waste every day, according to data from Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB). This included not just hospital waste like syringes, swabs and bandages, but also unused medicines or tablets discarded by every households.

A recent survey stated that upto 70% of unused medicines purchased in the last three years were discarded by 3 in 4 households in the country. Sometimes individuals are unaware of the right disposal methods and throw tablets either into dry or wet waste at homes. The survey conducted by LocalCircles, a community social media platform that enables citizens for policy changes, found that 50% of people responded that chemists sell a higher minimum quality than what is needed; 29% of the respondents also said that they stopped taking the prescribed medicines after a few days, letting the rest go to waste.

For the past two years, NGOs and experts in the field have been pushing the government to make policy changes and reduce the size of medicine strips that allow pharmacies to sell smaller quantities and reduce the wastage of drugs. Manvel Alur, founder, Environmental Synergies in Development (ENSYDE) said, "There are multiple stakeholders, the consumers are unaware and at a loss of options, pharmacies cannot sell small quantities and have to push the entire packet." Another reason that Alur highlighted was the medicine stripes have an expiry date on only one corner. So, if the medicines are cut in batches, neither the consumer nor the pharmacist will remember the dates.

A KSPCB official stated, "Of the materials we buy, 99% of the waste generated does not reach waste disposal." He added that the state has 26 common incinerators for biomedical waste, however, drugs added to the wet and dry waste cannot be segregated at such a level.

Experts also suggest that drug and pharmaceutical companies should take the onus and call back expired medicines to incinerate them. The survey highlighted that "43% wanted consumers to be permitted to return any unused or sealed medicine quantities within a month with pharmaceutical manufacturers or their nearest pharmacy".

As per reports, the retail pharmacy market in India is extensive and is projected to grow from $18.89 Bn in 2022 to $40.19 Bn by 2030.

Alert KSRTC bus driver catches thief

AKNISREE KARTHIK @ Bengaluru

AN alert KSRTC driver-cum-conductor who instinctively suspected two passengers, was able to catch one of them and retrieve Rs 5 lakh belonging to a third passenger.

The Bengaluru-bound KSRTC Volvo bus started from Thirunallar in Tamil Nadu at 7pm on Tuesday. When the bus reached Chidambaram, two persons (one of them identified as Aslam) got into the bus. Driver-cum-conductor Somappa inquired with them on their destination, to which they replied in Hindi that it was Majestic Bus Stand.

From Neyveli, software businessman Thirumurugan and his friend got into the bus. When the bus neared Electronics City, Aslam and his accomplice grabbed their luggage and told the driver that they wanted to get down. Somappa grew suspicious as the passengers, who had conversed in Hindi while boarding the bus and informed their destination to be Majestic Terminus, were now talking in Kannada and appeared to be in a hurry to deboard.

Somappa delayed stopping the bus and took a careful look at their bags to ensure they had not stolen any valuables, like laptops. However, after around 10 minutes, he stopped and let the two out.

Soon after, Thirumurugan rushed towards the driver's cabin, shouting that his money had been stolen. Somappa stopped the bus and chased the duo. He caught hold of Aslam, while the other escaped, leaving the bags behind.

A complaint was lodged with Electronics City police.

Elderly more prone to theft, road accidents

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

POLICE Commissioner B Dayananda said the Bengaluru City Police will take the initiative to create road safety awareness among elders.

Taking part in World Elder Abuse Awareness Day on Thursday, Dayananda said that while elders face psychological and physical abuse at home, they were more prone to crimes such as theft, chain snatching and road accidents.

"Statistics reveal that elders are vulnerable to road accidents and 60% of the pedestrians killed are senior citizens. To stop this trend, Bengaluru Traffic Police will be holding programmes to create awareness," he said.

On the occasion, Elders Helpline 1090 and Elderline 14567 (National Helpline for senior citizens) conducted a workshop on the Role of Police in Combating Elder Abuse with special emphasis on Cyber Safety of the Elderly.

Dr Radha S Murthy, managing trustee at Nightingales Medical Trust, who inaugurated the workshop, said, "There has been a 251 per cent increase in cases related to elder abuse, most of which are property related; 35 per cent of the cases are about verbal abuse, while 30 per cent are physical."

Police officials also shared details of the steps they had taken for the safety of elders, and said all police stations have been asked to compile a list of senior citizens living alone in their areas and conduct monthly meetings with them to address their issues.

Addressing cyber crime against Elders, Santosh, Inspector of the Cyber Crime Division shared a few tips with the elders present at the conference, on being wary of fraudulent messages and calls.

Husky run over by car, dies

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

A 23-year-old engineer filed a complaint against a car owner for running over her five-year-old Husky. Though the dog was rushed to a nearby veterinary hospital, it succumbed to the injuries. The car driver is said to have fled even when the complainant and other passers-by cried out to help shift the injured dog to the hospital. The incident happened between 6.15pm and 6.30pm on Tuesday when the complainant and her friends took their dogs for an evening walk.

J Harshitha, a resident of RK Colony in JP Nagar 2nd Phase, is the complainant, whose husky named Akhira was run over in front of Shashi Fashion on the 21st main road in JP Nagar 2nd phase, following which it was rushed to Jeeva Pet Hospital in JP Nagar 1st phase.

"Akhira was leashed. It came under the rear wheels of the car driven in a rash and negligent manner. The driver did not bother to stop the car, which was white in colour, and registered under Mangaluru RTO," Harshitha said to TNIE.

"Notice has been served to the owner to appear before the investigating officer," said an officer.

CRIME PATROL

Man kills father with pestle, held

Bengaluru: A 50-year-old painter was murdered by his son after being attacked with a pestle. The incident happened at Gopalapura in Magadi Road on Thursday around 4.40 am. When the victim started to bleed and fell unconscious, the accused along with his mother and brother shifted him to Victoria Hospital, where the victim succumbed to his injuries. The victim, identified as S Gangaraju alias Raju, resided in Gopalapura 2nd cross with his wife and two children, including the accused, Chethan (28). "A 52-year-old neighbour had witnessed the murder. When the accused realised this, he panicked and asserted that an unidentified assailant had attacked his father. However, the neighbour was steadfast on what she witnessed, though the accused claimed otherwise and woke his mother and brother to take the victim to the hospital around 6.15am. They then returned with the body by 7.30 am and the police who were informed of the incident arrested the accused immediately," said an officer.

Such crime leads to insecurity in public: Court

WHEN he refused to part with his cell phone, the accused snatched it from him. The accused also attempted to stab him, but he and his brother ran away from the spot, Arya stated.

The offence committed by the accused is against the established civic norms. Such incidents cause a feeling of insecurity among the people, the court observed.

On the objection raised by the accused's counsel about a day's delay in lodging the police complaint, the court observed that it is quite understandable that if an unknown person without any reason terrorises someone and snatches his cell mobile, certainly the victim will be under severe trauma.

He will be in a confused state of mind whether to go to the police or not. He needs some time to think and to come out of the trauma to lodge a complaint.

Karnataka eyes neighbouring rice bowls to fuel Anna Bhagya scheme

Siddaramaiah and team negotiates with TS for rice, may substitute with ragi, jowar

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

THE Congress government in Karnataka is facing a daunting task in fulfilling its promise of 10kgs of rice per head, under the Anna Bhagya guarantee scheme, to each BPL family and Antyodaya Anna Yojana card holder. The Centre's decision to discontinue the sale of wheat and rice from the Food Corporation of India to states under the Open Market Sale Scheme-Domestic (OMSS-D) has come as a bolt from the blue.

Interestingly, Siddaramaiah is eager to lead a delegation, if necessary, to neighbouring states for negotiations to procure rice at a reasonable cost. According to Food and Civil Supplies Minister K H Muniyappa and Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister H K Patil, the operation to procure rice has already begun. "We are putting in all efforts to launch the guarantee scheme on July 1, as promised," they told reporters after the cabinet meeting at Vidhana Soudha on Thursday.

Siddaramaiah and his colleagues have been working out options to procure 2.28 lakh tonnes of rice at a price similar to FCI's Rs 3,400 per quintal, that amounts to Rs 775.25 crore per month.

According to Muniyappa, the Karnataka government will not procure rice from the open market, but will try to procure it from government agencies in neighbouring states, especially Telangana. Government secretaries are also in touch with their counterparts in Telangana, and a batch of officials has already moved there for negotiations. "We will not go for the open market as there are government agencies such as consumer and marketing federations, and we have procured foodgrains from them in the past. The government will also think about distributing ragi and jowar along with rice," he said. "There is no question of transferring money to beneficiaries, as we have promised to give foodgrains," he clarified, replying to BJP's suggestion. Muniyappa blamed the Centre, saying it had not adhered to the spirit of federalism.

According to experts, the government can manage to supply grains for one or two months, but may not be able to sustain the scheme for long. Ultimately, rice returning to the black market for recycling, as had happened in the past, cannot be ruled out, they said.

Congress leaders attack BJP

As the rice war with the Centre heats up, the Congress is trying to turn the narrative against the BJP. AICC general secretary in-charge of Karnataka Randeep Singh Surjewala was quick to attack the BJP. "Why has the State BJP "taped its mouth" over such blatant denial of free rice to SCs, STs, OBCs and poor? Does their silence mean that they are the ones who nudged and pleaded with Modi Govt to issue the anti-poor order for denial of sale of rice by FCI to Karnataka? (sic)," he tweeted.

He also questioned the Janata Dal (Secular). "Why is BJP's 'B Team' the JD(S) silent on this anti-poor and anti Karnataka policy decision of Modi Govt?" he tweeted.

BJP INDULGING IN RICE POLITICS: SHIVAKUMAR

MYSURU: Deputy CM DK Shivakumar came down heavily on the BJP-led Union Government for discontinuing sale of rice and wheat through Open Market Sale Scheme (OMSS) to State Governments. The Congress was planning to launch Anna Bhagya from July 1. "We are not asking rice for free... BJP is indulging in rice politics," he added. "Our chief minister is in discussion with CMs of other states as well and we will soon launch a massive stir against it," he said. ENS

CHAPTERS ON RSS FOUNDER DROPPED, NEHRU LETTER ADDED

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka state syllabus textbooks are set to see another change, with revisions being approved by the government during a cabinet meeting on Thursday.

Last year, several changes had been made to the textbooks, particularly in the Class 10 Social Science text. "The state government has decided to make immediate amendments to the Class 10 textbook, as they are termed the most controversial. However, changes in textbooks for Classes 6-9 will be done gradually, in the coming years," said sources in the education department.

Former education minister BC Nagesh had released the new Social Science textbook for Secondary School Leaving Certificate (SSLC) students, which included a biographical chapter on Bhagat Singh written by author Dr G Ramakrishna, as well as a chapter on role models, 'Nijavaada Aadarsha Purusha Yaaraagabeku?' (Who should be the ideal role model?), a speech written by RSS founder K B Hedgewar.

Orchestrated by the textbook revision committee headed by Rohith Chakrathirtha, the revisions included removal of a chapter on vegetarian and non-vegetarian food -- 'Vyagragita' by A N Murthy Rao -- and a retelling of 'Beauty and the Beast' by P Lankesh, 'Mruga Mattu Sundari'. It had omitted two chapters on Bhagat Singh and Swami Vivekananda, of which the former was readded in a second revision, following an outcry. A portion of KT Gatti's travelogue was also included, that highlighted a visit to Savarkar during his incarceration.

The Congress government has now promised to reverse these changes. Primary and Secondary Education Minister Madhu Bangarappa told reporters on Thursday that they would not impose the changes immediately, rather, a booklet of changes would be issued to schools.

Apart from reversing the changes, which include dropping portions on Savarkar and KB Hedgewar, there will be a few additions like poem by Dr B R Ambedkar and a chapter on educationist Savitribhai Phule. Interestingly, the revision will include a letter written by Jawaharlal Nehru to his daughter Indira Gandhi.

OTHER MAJOR DECISIONS

- ₹28 crore to buy 10 double decker electric buses for BMTC
- CM given power to fill three vacant posts (members) in KPSC
- Approval given to form Cabinet sub-committee to assist disaster management
- Approval to increase salaries of all state road transport corporations by 15 per cent
- Revised plan to fill 70 lakes with the Vrishabhavati river water at a cost of ₹1,081 crore approved

RETURN TO OLD ORDER

ANTI-CONVERSION LAW

Karnataka Protection of Right to Freedom of Religion Act was passed by BJP in the Assembly in 2021, and Council in 2022. The law prohibits "unlawful conversion from one religion to another by misrepresentation, force, undue influence, coercion, allurement or by any fraudulent means". The penalty and jail term was increased by making amendments. The same will be repealed by the Congress government.

TEXTBOOK LESSONS

Additions by the BJP government, including chapters on RSS founder KB Hedgewar, Veer Savarkar and lessons by right-wing writer Chakravarthi Sulibele, will be removed from the textbooks. A decision on adding more details on Tipu Sultan was not revealed. Changes will be made and printed as supplementary booklets, and given to teachers and others. No new textbooks will be printed this year.

APMC ACT

The APMC Act brought in by the previous government had removed restrictions on sale of agricultural produce, allowing private individuals to buy directly, unlike previously where farmers had to sell their produce at designated places. The Congress government will bring in changes again.

'LAME EXCUSES': BOMMAI HITS OUT AT SIDDU

BENGALURU: A day after Chief Minister Siddaramaiah accused the Centre of trying to scuttle his administration's free rice scheme for the poor, former CM Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday hit back alleging that he was making "lame excuses" and indulging in "conspiracy politics" by putting the blame on the Centre. The Congress government in the state is indulging in tactics realising that it will default on the guarantees, the former CM said, suggesting that the Siddaramaiah regime put the money into the bank account of the beneficiaries through Direct Benefit Transfer, until it makes necessary arrangements for rice. "The state government on one hand is cheating the people of the state with regard to providing 10 kg of free rice to the poor, and on the other hand to save themselves from the bad name of having failed to fulfill the promise, is playing politics on the issue of supply of rice," Bommai said. Speaking to reporters here, he said the Centre as per the Food Security Act is giving 5 kg of free rice to the poor every month and from December they are also bearing handling and transport charges, which was earlier borne by the states. "Out of the 10 kg that has been announced by the Congress government in the state, five kg are provided by the Centre; the state government has to tell the truth by saying that they will give additional five kg," he added. (Agencies)

Anti-communal wing starts functioning in Mangaluru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mangaluru

THE anti-communal wing to check 'moral policing' incidents in Mangaluru city police limits has started functioning. Mangaluru City Police Commissioner Kuldeep Kumar R Jain told reporters here on Thursday that the team will be headed by City Special Branch inspector Sharif.

"Mangaluru has witnessed many communal incidents. Moral policing cases have led to disruption of peace in the city. To check such cases, Home Minister G Parameshwara had given us directives to constitute an anti-communal wing. The wing started functioning two days ago," the commissioner said.

He said that the wing will function under the supervision of the City Crime Branch (CCB) led by ACP PA Hegde.

"Our motive is to prevent moral policing. It will carry out trial monitoring and keep an eye on accused who were earlier involved in communal killings and attempts to murder, riots, moral policing, cattle smuggling and theft etc on a daily basis. The wing will also gather information on all organisations operating on communal issues. The wing will review communal cases which have been registered already and fresh cases and take necessary action. The wing will also monitor posts on social media. We will monitor data of communal cases of the last 10 years and there are around 200 such cases," he added.

Gruha Lakshmi application process delayed by 4-5 days, says minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE application process for the State Government's ambitious 'Gruha Lakshmi' scheme (Rs 2,000 for woman head of every household) will be delayed by a few more days. It was scheduled to start on Friday.

Speaking to media persons after the Cabinet meeting on Thursday, Women and Child Welfare Minister Laxmi Hebbalkar said that the government had initially planned to launch the application process from Friday but will be delayed by 4-5 days as they are trying to ensure that applicants do not face any inconvenience.

It is one of the five guarantees announced by Congress in the run-up to the polls. "We have decided to receive applications online as well as it Grama One, BengaluruOne, and KarnatakaOne centres. During the discussions in the Cabinet, it was felt that there will be a lot of rush and people may have to face inconvenience. Some ministers and officers suggested that we should also use the Bapuji Seva Kendra at gram panchayats and nadakacheri centres for the purpose. The application process has been delayed by 4-5 days to make the scheme more people-friendly," she elaborated.

Earlier in the day, the minister had announced that Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar will launch the application form on Friday afternoon and the process will be started.

The minister said they had asked the e-governance department to design an application for those willing to work as volunteers for the success of the scheme. The volunteers will go to applicants' houses and help them with the application process.

The department had sought for 4-5 days.

Small supplementary booklets planned: Min

PRIMARY and Secondary Education Minister Madhu Bangarappa said, "By the time our government was formed, the textbooks were already printed and had reached children. We cannot print new textbooks at this juncture as it involves huge expenditure. We are therefore bringing the changes in small supplementary booklets, which will be given to schools and teachers will teach accordingly."

He said the lessons to be changed will be from Social Studies and Kannada textbooks only. He pointed out that they were removing lessons on Hedgewar and Savarkar, and will include some lessons from the previous (prior to the BJP government) textbooks like social reformer Savithribai Phule, a letter written by former PM Jawaharlal Nehru to his daughter Indira Gandhi, 'Ni hoda marudina', a poem on Ambedkar and others. "These changes are for this year. We will soon constitute a committee for revision of textbooks which will be implemented from next year," he said.

Congress, which had opposed the APMC law when they were in opposition, is all set to make changes. Textiles and Agricultural Marketing Minister Shivanand Patil said the APMC Act is not getting the results expected. In fact, the profits in APMCs reduced from Rs 620 crore in 2019-20 to Rs 190 crore in 2022-23. "This law is causing inconvenience to farmers and other stakeholders, including porters.

Defamation suit against Siddaramaiah dismissed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IN a relief to CM Siddaramaiah, a magistrate court in the city dismissed a private defamation complaint filed against him for allegedly making a statement that the Lingayat CM had spoiled the state's image by indulging in corruption.

While dismissing the complaint, Preeth J, XLII Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate, a special court designated for trying cases filed against sitting as well as former MPs/MLAs in the state, noted that the statement showed that it was not made in respect of the entire Lingayat community, but only in respect of a person who was holding the position of CM.

Referring to Siddaramaiah's statement, the magistrate observed that it was an answer given in the form of a statement by the opposition party to the question posed by a reporter, which often happens in politics. The statement given by the accused is not defaming the Lingayat community as a whole as alleged by the complainants. Hence, the complaint is not maintainable, the magistrate said. Shankar Shet and Mallayya Shivalingayya Hiremath from Dharwad had filed the complaint.

The magistrate said the complainants have not suffered any legal injury from the statement. Their reputation has not in any way been lowered. Hence, taking cognizance of the offence and proceeding with the case will amount to an abuse of the legal process. Moreover, the said statement is not per se defamatory, the magistrate said.

It was alleged that during a campaign meeting in Varuna constituency on April 22, 2023, a reporter sought Siddaramaiah's opinion on BJP's strategy of selecting a Lingayat MLA as CM. In reply, Siddaramaiah made the statement in question and the same was telecast.

"Panchamasali Lingayats extended support to the Congress (in the recent Assembly polls). Therefore, we are confident that the CM will deliver justice to us," he told reporters here. He said the community leaders will meet Siddaramaiah soon and brief him about their demands once again. "Cases (related to reservation) are in the High Court and Supreme Court. Members of our community are confused as to which category they should select during census, school admission and while applying for jobs. CM Siddaramaih and DyCM DK Shivkumar should deliver social justice to us," he said. ENS

Cong is new Muslim League: BJP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

The Bharatiya Janata Party on Thursday accused the Congress government in Karnataka of being anti-Hindu and coming under the influence of the conversion mafia to reverse the changes made to the anti-conversion law implemented by the previous BJP government.

Former chief minister and senior BJP leader Basavaraj Bommai said that the Congress government indulges in politics of hate and appeasement and considers revoking the previous government's decisions as its major achievement. Bommai said the Siddaramaiah government is more focused on pleasing the party's high command and not working for the people of the state. The government's decision to drop lessons on RSS founder KB Hedgewar and Veer Savarkar is like an anti-national act.

BJP MLA BY Vijayendra said the Anti-Conversion Bill aimed at preventing conversion by means of allurement, coercion, force, fraudulent means and also mass conversion. "By repealing the law, Congress has succumbed to the pressures of conversion mafia and has given a safe heaven for Conversion factories. Time and again, Congress has proved to be Anti-Hindu, never taking steps to protect the interests of our ancient Sanatana Dharma and its rich, ancient cultures and traditions," he tweeted.

Former Union Minister and MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal said Siddaramaiah's anti-Hindu agenda has been exposed.

BJP national general secretary CT Ravi said after failing to provide people-friendly bhagyas, Congress is giving a conversion bhagya to Kannadigas. "CONgress is the new Muslim League and it will go to any extent to hurt Hindus," he tweeted

Don't invite wrath of DMK: Stalin to BJP

'Their style is to intimidate political rivals'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

TAMIL Nadu CM MK Stalin on Thursday lambasted the BJP for allegedly unleashing central agencies against their political opponents, and warned, "Don't provoke the DMK or its cadres. You can't withstand (the repercussions)."

His tirade comes after the Enforcement Directorate on Wednesday arrested Tamil Nadu Minister V Senthil Balaji in connection with the cash-for-job scam allegation in his department when he was the transport minister in the previous AIADMK regime.

Addressing the DMK cadres, Stalin said in an 11-minute video, "What was the reason to lock up Senthil for 18 hours for interrogation on the basis of a complaint filed 10 years ago. The BJP never engages in politics by facing the people, but unleashes the central agencies like Income Tax, ED and the CBI. From now on, the BJP should stop its autocratic activities."

Before the BJP came to power at the Centre, Stalin pointed out, ED had conducted only 112 raids, which magnified to over 3,000, especially targeting opposition leaders. In only 0.5 per cent of the cases, the offences were proved, he added. "BJP's style is to intimidate those they cannot face politically."

"No one has an iota of doubt that Senthil Balaji's case is a blatant political vendetta. He has been subjected to mental and physical pressures, which has resulted in his ailments," he said.

600 pilgrims to be sent for Kashi darshan: Reddy

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

TRANSPORT Minister Ramalinga Reddy said that pilgrims from Karnataka will be sent on Kashi darshan under the government's Kashi Yatra scheme, from July. Over 600 pilgrims will be sent.

Reddy told TNIE: "Muzrai department heads have held talks with the Railway officials to send devotees on a round trip to Kashi from the second week of July." Muzrai department officials said that the government had to stop the Kashi round trip package, which included Prayagraj and Ayodhya, from April 14 due to the model code of conduct.

The department had returned ₹15,000 to each pilgrim who had booked tickets. The package costs Rs 20,000 and the government will give Rs 5,000 to each pilgrim. "Pilgrims have to log into the IRCTC website, and pay Rs 15,000. The government will pay the rest. The train will depart from Majestic," said a senior official from the Muzrai department. Lauding the Congress government, KS Vishwanath Deeskhit, head priest, Mulabagilu Ganpathi Temple said, "There are many poor people who cannot afford it."

Absorb pvt buses, staff into KSRTC: Forum to CM

KSRTC Staff and Workers Federation on Thursday wrote to CM Siddaramaiah, urging him to absorb the private buses and their staff, who have been hit by the Shakti scheme, into the bus corporations that was done by the Devaraj Urs' government in 1976 after abolishing contract carriages. The federation also urged him to introduce buses to 2,500 villages.

In the letter, dated June 15, federation secretary, Vijay Bhaskar said, "As more women are shifting towards KSRTC from private buses, the drivers, operators, technical staff and others may lose their jobs. The bus owners who have invested are also in trouble".

Recalling the measures taken by then CM Urs after abolishing the Contract Carriages Abolition Act 1976, Bhaskar said, "The private buses, including the staff, who were affected by the move were absorbed into KSRTC. Similarly, we request that private buses and their staff be absorbed into KSRTC.

Nurse assaults, robs aged woman, held

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

Nandini Layout police arrested a 38-year-old nurse who had allegedly assaulted an elderly woman and robbed her of her gold chain.

The accused, Lakshmi alias Ganga, had approached the home alone woman in Laggere, Shanthamma, on several occasions on the pretext of inquiring about renting houses. On May 25, the woman went to the house again and hit her with a stick, and robbed her of her gold chain.

"Based on Shanthamma's complaint, we gathered details about the accused and arrested her. The stolen 20gm gold chain worth ₹80,000 has been recovered. Ganga was working as a nurse at a hospital in Koramangala, and early this year, had stolen a gold chain from a patient after sedating her at St Philomena's Hospital. Ashoknagar police had arrested and released her on bail a few days before she committing the offence in Nandini Layout," the police said.

Parts of Gurucharan report taken for power tariff hike: Officials

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

EXPERTS and officials working with the government said that the Karnataka Electricity Regulatory Commission (KERC) has taken parts of the Gurucharan committee report, which was also mentioned by the BJP in the state budget, to improve the energy sector.

Citizens and industries have flayed the government for power tariff hike. Experts said that the KERC and government have taken those parts from the report which will swell the state coffers and help Escoms, and not the consumers.

A suggestion in the report was to reduce the per unit cost and increase the fixed charges cost. This has been incorporated. With that, the slabs dividing the units have also been reduced, creating more burden for the consumers, especially the industries, an expert said.

"Neither the KERC nor the state government has explained reasons behind the hike. Power tariff revision was informed in a release, a day after the voting. In the budget, it was mentioned that the report will be assessed, and incorporate it in a phased manner, but that is not done," an expert said.

Officials said the committee had also suggested transmission and distribution losses reduction and work on the captive generations to balance economics. But these aspects are still being discussed. "Implementation of the Gurucharan panel report should have been done in a staggered manner. It was suggested the old tariff format be followed, while increasing the per unit rates, on the old format. This would have also resolved Escoms demand for power tariff hike to tackle losses," said a senior official from the energy department. "The KERC order can be challenged in the Appellate Tribunal, but the final decision will take time as many cases are pending."

BY-THE-BOOK VERSUS EXPEDIENCY IN THE ARREST OF TN MINISTER

High drama gripped the state of Tamil Nadu this week as 18 hours of Enforcement Directorate searches culminated in the arrest of state minister V Senthil Balaji in the wee hours. The 47-year-old, having developed chest pain, was eventually remanded in judicial custody and shifted to a private hospital for heart surgery. Opposition party leaders from across the country raised their voices against the central agency's actions, accusing the BJP-led Union government of using it for political reasons. Not only did the ED enter the state secretariat to search his chambers, but it also sought to arrest him in the middle of the night at the end of a marathon questioning session with no breaks, according to his lawyers.

Senthil Balaji, who holds key portfolios of electricity, excise and prohibition, is under investigation for his role in a scam dating back to his tenure as transport minister between 2011 and 2015 in the AIADMK regime. He joined the DMK in 2018 and has since proved his strengths as an organiser in the 2020 local body polls and 2021 assembly elections, particularly in the state's western region, where the AIADMK is strongest and the BJP sees as most fertile for its growth.

While ED and other agencies must conclude their probe into his alleged misconduct, the cry of opposition parties rings true. The DMK is one of the strongest parties standing against the BJP. It has not only pledged its support to the Congress but has made no secret of its desire to unseat the saffron party at the Centre. The furious Dravidian major has now warned the national party it will not be cowed, reiterating the charge that the BJP uses central agencies to bully opposition parties. Despite the BJP's ambitions in TN, it is currently piggybacking on the strength of an AIADMK that has been increasingly testy with the party's state leadership. If there is a political strategy behind the minister's arrest, the question arises whether the manner in which the ED handled the matter will elicit support for the BJP or sympathy for the minister and the DMK. The BJP might hope to put the opposition parties in disarray, but it could also end up creating the circumstances to bring the disparate groups together against a common foe. A more cautious by-the-book approach, aside from being the right thing to do, might also be more politically expedient.

LAUNCH HURDLE FOR 'ANNA BHAGYA' PLAN

Even before the Siddaramaiah government's ambitious Anna Bhagya scheme — which promises 10 kg of rice per head per month to BPL and Antyodaya card-holding families — could take off, it has run into a barrier. The Union government has directed the Food Corporation of India (FCI) to discontinue the sale of foodgrains to states, with some exceptions, under the Open Market Sale Scheme (Domestic). Instead, it has allowed FCI to offload rice and wheat stocks in the open market to private parties by e-auction, saying it would cool down prices and curb hoarding. The order comes a day after the Karnataka government reached a deal with the FCI to buy 2.28 lakh metric tonnes of rice at ₹3,400 per quintal and throws a spanner in the works for the Anna Bhagya scheme, set to start on July 1. It also goes against the Centre's OMSS policy for 2023, drawn up on January 26, allowing states to buy rice and wheat from the FCI without participating in the e-auction.

This has prompted Chief Minister Siddaramaiah to term the development anti-Kannadiga and anti-poor and claim that the Narendra Modi government is playing politics with the people's food. India has the world's largest food programme under the National Food Security Act, 2013, or the Right to Food Act, which subsidises grains for about 81 crore people. The Karnataka government is now working the phones with friendly states to make up for the deficit, and this struggle to find the monthly requirement of over 14,000 tonnes of rice at a cheap rate is likely to continue. It threatens to play havoc with Siddaramaiah's budget and could even jeopardise the scheme and anger voters who anticipate an easing of their burdens.

The timing of the order leads to the suspicion that the Centre wants to make it clear who is in charge. Not that Karnataka wasn't warned — during the assembly election campaign, BJP leaders had made it clear that voting against the party would deprive the state of Prime Minister Modi's 'blessings'. Instead of displaying a spirit of federal cooperation and compassion and ensuring that states prosper under popularly-elected leaders, the Centre is depriving the target population of this welfare measure. At a time when there is distress among the poor, especially those who are jobless, free grains are a godsend. The Centre cannot be at war with the states over something as basic as rice. The BJP government must realise that such moves smack of pettiness, and those living in Karnataka are also Indians, no matter which party they vote for.

QUICK TAKE

NO BRAZEN TREE CUTTING

The army recently cut 64 fully grown trees on a rented property in Kashmir. When the owner demanded compensation, it moved court seeking protection under the powerful AFSPA. The court dismissed the plea. The point is how far agencies go to justify cutting trees. Trees are sacrificed for development, but no one has the right to wield the axe without permission. The Territorial Army has an ecological battalion that must rule on the army's action. It is an occasion to remind the States to borrow Maharashtra's example and set up Tree Authorities as the final arbiters on the felling of trees.

Notwithstanding problems, the north remains BJP's best insurance against prospective setbacks in the rest of India

NORTH BJP'S SOLE BASTION FOR AN OPPOSITION BREACH

RADHIKA RAMASESHAN
Columnist and political commentator

After the Karnataka poll outcome, the political focus has largely been on the BJP's slumping presence in the south because the state was its gateway to an entire region that remains largely untouched by the RSS's core ideology and worldview. In the prelude to the 2024 parliamentary election, the BJP is up against numerous challenges in the east, exemplified by its dogged struggles to sustain the momentum generated in 2019 in West Bengal, its failure to breach BJD-held Odisha and the upheavals in the north-east where it is ensconced. The tremors in Manipur, triggered by the relentless ethnic violence and purges, spilt over into the other states, notably Mizoram. In the west of India, another impregnable terrain for the BJP since 2014, Maharashtra, electorally the largest and weightiest province, could see a resurgent Maha Vikas Aghadi. The Uddhav Thackeray faction of the Shiv Sena still hoped to ride over the 'sympathy' generated for Balasaheb Thackeray's legatee after the vertical split it suffered.

The south, east and a major part of the west do not make for a buoyant forecast for the BJP. However, is the north factored in while drawing up a pre-poll scenario? The indomitable north that towers over the rest of the country at the crest? Without counting Jammu & Kashmir and Ladakh, the north — that runs like a jagged swathe of land across the map from Rajasthan to the south-west to Himachal Pradesh, Punjab, Haryana, Chandigarh and Delhi in the north and dips southward to Madhya Pradesh and Chhattisgarh before moving to the east to Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Jharkhand and Bihar and shares a broad linguistic identity as Hindi-speaking states (bar Punjab)—contributes 240 elected members (approximately 44 per cent) to the 543-strong Lok Sabha. As against this number, the west (Maharashtra, Gujarat, Goa, Dadra and Nagar Haveli, and Daman and Diu) brings 78 MPs, the east (West Bengal, Assam, Odisha, Tripura, Meghalaya, Arunachal Pradesh, Manipur, Nagaland, Mizoram and Sikkim) 67 and the south (Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Kerala, Telangana, Puducherry, Andaman and Nicobar and Lakshadweep), 131.

The BJP consolidated its grip over the north in 2014. In 2019, it won 181 of the 240 seats, with Punjab being the weak link in a chain of success. In the last five years, the BJP suffered a reversal in the Himachal elections, is up against an invigorated Congress in MP and has been hit by a face-off between the Centre and the Haryana woman wrestlers caused by charges of a sex offence against an Uttar Pradesh MP that alienated its Jat voters in Haryana, UP and Rajasthan. Notwithstanding these problems — the BJP still thinks these are only pinpricks — the north remains its best insurance against prospective setbacks in the rest of the country.

The Opposition, be it the Congress or the regional parties, is groping for a strategy to counter the BJP's near-hegemony over the north. They strive to level the playing field with a diamond-cut-diamond approach, answering the BJP's dominant Hindutva appeal with their advocacy of majoritarian politics. This approach is best illustrated by the tactics adopted by the Congress in MP, which votes this December.

The Congress ushered in its campaign in a blaze of saffron and religiosity, headed by its CM candidate, Kamal Nath. Hindutva was always part of Nath's toolkit. When he was minding the Gujarat elections, he courted sadhus and babas to rebut the BJP's allegation of 'minority appeasement' against the Congress, but that didn't eventually help. Soon after he was unseated as the CM, he constituted a Dharmik and Utsav Prakosth. He appointed a white-robed katha vachak (narrator of Hindu scriptures and shloka), Richa Goswami, as the head. When Nath promised a monthly aid of ₹1,500 to women and subsidised gas cylinders as part of the Congress's agenda to 'respect and honour' women, Goswami launched the event by reciting the 'Sundara Kaand' from Ramayana.

On June 9, Nath merged the Bajrang Sena, a right-wing outfit dedicated to cow protection, with the Congress at a function in the party headquarters to the chant of Jai Shri Ram and portrayed himself as a Hanuman votary. On June 12, Priyanka Gandhi Vadra inaugurated the Congress's electioneering by offering prayers on the banks of the Narmada at Jabalpur. So far, Nath and his associates have not uttered a word on the concerted offensive against Muslims in MP, manifest in incidents of lynching and the use of bulldozers to raze their homes and commercial properties in the manner of Yogi Adityanath by the Shivraj Singh Chouhan administration.

In neighbouring Chhattisgarh, Congress CM Bhupesh Baghel lifted the same pages from the Hindutva playbook but modulated their use less overtly not to alienate the Adivasis. On June 1, Baghel organised a 'National Ramayana festival' while the commercial use of cow dung and urine was part of his government's ongoing agenda. In UP, the seedbed of majoritarian politics, the main Opposition party, Samajwadi Party, hosted its workers' training camps at Hindu pilgrim sites, the last being at Naimisharanya in the Avadh region, where its leaders, Ramgopal Yadav and Shivpal Singh Yadav, invoked the Hindu scriptures in their speeches to reinforce the message. The Samajwadi leader Akhilesh Yadav generously embedded Hindutva symbols and icons in his past electioneering, but that doesn't seem to have enlarged his Hindu constituency, especially among the upper castes.

Of the states going to polls this year, Rajasthan alone has underpinned its campaign on CM Ashok Gehlot's pursuit of welfare policies and measures in his tenure without entangling the Congress in Hindutva. It's debatable what the string of freebies he announced will cost the exchequer, but evidently drawing a leaf from the victories in Himachal Pradesh and Karnataka, Gehlot appears convinced that his emphasis on health, education, social security, subsidised electricity and the restoration of the Old Pension Scheme could guarantee the Congress a second inning.

The fallout of the Opposition's accent on Hindutva has not been positive. Whether it pays the parties electoral dividends or not is imponderable. But it pushed the BJP to go after a more aggressive form of Hindutva politics. The strategy was recently manifest in the attacks on Muslims in Uttarakhand that spared none, not even an office-bearer of a district BJP minority cell, and the frequent Hindu-Muslim clashes in Maharashtra to keep the pot boiling, as it were.

MANIPUR SOLUTION LIES IN STRUCTURAL ADJUSTMENTS

PRADIP PHANJOUBAM
Editor of Imphal Review of Arts and Politics

Nearly two months after a bloody feud between Meiteis and Kukis broke out, Manipur remains tense and on the edge. Although no longer widespread, sporadic incidents of violence and mayhem at the foothills where villages of the two communities rub shoulders — once in friendship and now in bitter enmity — are still reported.

Nearly 45,000 people stand displaced on both sides of the divide, now living in community-run relief camps. For many of them, an initial respite from immediate fear of violence has given way to despair at the thought of an uncertain future. This despair is beginning to turn into anger, which, if allowed to simmer without any safety valve, can become the fuel for further conflict escalation. It can also end up vented on the establishment. The emerging popular impression is the state government is clueless, and the Centre lacks commitment.

Quite dangerously, the two warring sides now perceive government forces as partisan. While Kukis think the state police constabularies, including the armed Manipur Rifles, favour Meiteis, the latter are convinced Central paramilitary forces, in particular the Assam Rifles, support Kukis. Adding to this perception is a completely avoidable ugly confrontation on June 2 between Manipur police commandos and a unit of the 37-Assam Rifles, which almost resulted in a gunfight.

In this incident, a detachment of the AR unit arrived at the Sugnu office of the Sub-Divisional Police Officer. It provocatively blocked off its gateway with two armoured personnel carriers. When things were poised to get out of hand, the AR detachment relented and retreated. In all likelihood, this was just localised friction created by an overzealous post commander. Nonetheless, it left in its wake very damaging optics, particularly because it happened just two days after Union home minister Amit Shah's three-day visit to the state beginning May 28.

As promised by Shah during his visit, in a welcome step, a three-member enquiry committee headed by retired Gauhati High Court chief justice Ajai Lamba has been formed to establish the causes of the crisis and fix responsibilities. However, another initiative of setting up a 51-member peace committee headed by state Governor Anusuiya Uikey is running into early but expected hiccups, and many on the list are withdrawing.

The allegations are there are too many ministers, MLAs and people of known political affiliations in it. Apparently, prior consent of those included in the committee was also not sought.

Kuki members named in the committee have also objected to including state Chief Minister N Biren Singh, who they charge is anti-Kuki and a mastermind of the present crisis. The inclusion of the CM and his ministers in this committee, however, indicates the Centre is not inclined to replace him or impose President's Rule, quite contrary to anticipations by many, probably because this is a BJP-ruled state.

The present crisis also reveals the complex relationships matrix between especial-

> This despair is beginning to turn into anger, which, if allowed to simmer without any safety valve, can become the fuel for further conflict escalation

ly the three major ethnic groups — the Nagas, Kukis and Meiteis. The faultlines are not just along ethnic boundaries. There is also a hill-valley divide which corresponds roughly with the tribal and non-tribal divide, in which Nagas and Kukis are one side and the Meiteis on the other. The hills form 90 per cent of the state's land mass, deemed exclusive for those recognised as Scheduled Tribes. Many Meiteis of the valley now demand ST status to level out perceived discrepancies.

Both Nagas and Kukis oppose this demand, but it has not given the two any closer fraternal ties. In the May 3 rally to oppose the Meitei demand, Nagas did not cross the red line in their relationship with Meiteis as did Kukis in Churachandpur district, going on an arson rampage on Meitei settlements after a rumour spread that Meiteis had burned down a Kuki war memorial site. The state is now in a raging inferno from the fire that spread that afternoon. Despite feelers from Kukis for alliance in making this a hill versus valley conflict, it is apparent that the Nagas have decided to remain neutral.

However, even this neutrality is nuanced. On June 9, Manipur's 10 Naga legislators met the Union home minister for consultations. They assured him of their service in bringing back normalcy but also added if any concession were to be made to the Kuki demand for a separate administration, no land Nagas consider as theirs must be touched.

Since Kuki villages are spread across all the state's hill districts, and because Nagas consider all hill districts except Churachandpur as their ancestral domain, this assertion obviously will be a wet blanket to dampen the Kuki demand, even in the unlikely circumstance of Meiteis agreeing to the proposal. To recall, in the 1990s, a decision of the United Naga Council to evict villages of Kukis, who they consider tenants on their land, led to a bloody conflict costing more than 800 lives.

This neutrality indeed reminds me of Herbert B. Swope's Pulitzer Prize-winning articles written from Germany in 1916 for The World, New York, reproduced in the first volume of Outstanding International Press Reporting edited by Heinz-Dietrich Fischer de Gruyter, describing why Germans at the time were bitter about America's proclaimed neutrality, a year before the country too joined the ongoing World War-I. The Germans felt, Swope said, American neutrality came from the head, while with the Allies, it was determined by the heart.

If Manipur's Nagas have indicated they are not ready to side with the Kukis in the current conflict, it does not mean they have no differences with the Meiteis. Hence, as and when this trouble ends, the sane challenge before the state and its people is to work for a consensus on structural and administrative adjustments. For now, however, the most urgent need is for this insane hostility to end.

Minister's arrest

This refers to the arrest of Tamil Nadu Electricity, Prohibition and Excise Minister V Senthil Balaji under PMLA by ED after prolonged questioning. The ED recovered cash and other incriminating documents related to the cash-for-jobs scam in Tamil Nadu. It has become a tradition for political parties like AAP, BRS,TMC and DMK to always find fault with Central agencies.

Questions raised

The treatment meted out to Senthil Balaji, a minister in TN government, by the ED leading to his hospitalisation raises obvious questions. As a minister and as an elected representative, he deserves some respect. His crime, if any, has not been proved. Even if proved, ED has no authority to punish him. It is for the courts to do that. It seems states are helpless before the might of the Centre.
Capt Raju Mathai, Kochi

Anna Bhagya

Just when the new Congress government in Karnataka was all set to kick-start Anna Bhagya which involves providing free rice to the poorest of the poor, the Central government has put a spoke in the wheel by suspending the supply of rice to the states. The loss in Karnataka has rattled the Centre so much that it is apparently keen to stymie the efforts of the state government.

Manipur violence

Nine people were killed and 10 injured in fresh violence in Manipur on Tuesday. The violence first erupted on May 3. For some time, it was suppressed, but it's still ongoing. A lot of men succumbed to their injuries in this violence. Why can't the government put an end to this cycle of violence?

NEET toppers

The recent results of NEET-UG is a stunning example of how the students of Tamil Nadu are brilliant and at a different level compared to the whole nation. Many in the top 10 or 50 hail from the state. No doubt it is an eye opener to the Governor of Tamil Nadu.

Courageous stand

This refers to Woman sends back groom over mutton demand (June 15). A bank officer groom insisted on mutton curry at the marriage feast at midnight and the Sambalpur post-graduate bride called off the marriage in protest. That sends a positive signal to society. The protest is a result of enlightenment of education, a symbol of women empowerment.

Govt nod to mega armed drone deal with US

Defence Acquisition Council approves 30 MQ-9Bs from America; 12 for Indian Navy, the rest for Army & IAF

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

AN Indo-US deal to acquire Armed Unmanned Aerial Vehicles (UAVs) from the United States was approved by the Defence Acquisition Council (DAC) on Thursday.

Defence sources confirmed to this newspaper that the DAC under the chairmanship of Defence Minister Rajnath Singh approved the proposal. The DAC is the highest decision-making body in the Ministry of Defence.

The deal, announced before Prime Minister Narendra Modi's scheduled visit to the US, is to procure around 30 armable MQ-9B drones from General Atomics Aeronautical Systems, Inc. (GA-ASI). Of this, 12 is for the Indian Navy and the rest to be equally given to the Army and Air Force.

The deal has to be further approved by the US Congress. This could be the second important defence deal after the much-discussed co-production of the GE-F 414 turboprop engines for the upgraded Tejas Mark 2.

There is a possibility of inking a pact between the US company General Electric and the Indian Defence PSU Hindustan Aeronautics Limited for joint production of the Tejas Mark 2 engine.

The Prime Minister will be on an official state visit in the US from June 21 to 25, where President Joe Biden will host him at the White House. It is going to be Modi's first state visit to the US during his nine-year prime ministership.

These drones have high-altitude long-endurance and can be armed with air-to-ground missiles and smart bombs with long range precision-strike capability. It can operate for more than 30 hours up to the range of 5,500 nautical miles in all-weather conditions.

The overall deal is expected to cost around $3 billion.

The drones, once acquired, will help strengthen the surveillance capabilities along the Line of Actual Control (LAC) and further deep into the Indian Ocean.

The Indian Navy has been operating two MQ-9A unarmed predator drones, which were hired on lease from General Atomics in September 2020. Navy has been using them to keep track of activities in the Indian Ocean region. These drones were also employed along the Line of Actual Control to keep an eye on the on-ground activities by China's People's Liberation Army on its side on the northern borders.

A source explained that these UAVs have the capabilities to detect, locate and identify maritime vessels and once armed, can also carry out attacks. Further, with such high-endurance, these UAVs can carry out operations up to the choke points on the expanse ends of the Indian Ocean Region.

The high-altitude long-endurance UAVs are also capable of firing Hellfire missiles and around 450 kilograms of explosive materials.

The hunter-killer Sea Guardian drones are being procured for the three services as they can carry out a variety of roles including maritime surveillance, anti-submarine warfare and over-the-horizon targeting, among others.

The MQ-9B has two variants — SkyGuardian and its sibling SeaGuardian.

In 2020, the Indian Navy had taken on lease two MQ-9B Sea Guardian drones from General Atomics for a period of one year for surveillance in the Indian Ocean. The lease period has been extended subsequently.

The Indian Navy has been bolstering its surveillance mechanism to monitor growing Chinese activities including frequent forays by the People's Liberation Army warships in the Indian Ocean Region.

LIVING IN SPACE

BUILDING LIFE SUPPORT SYSTEMS ON MARS, MOON AND SPACE TRAVEL

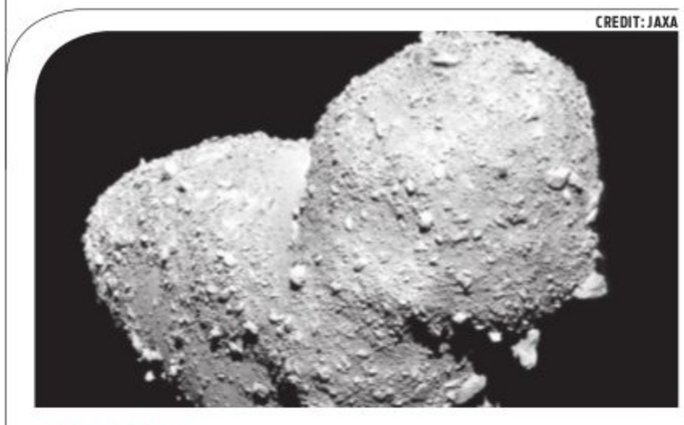

With an eye on supplementing life support systems on Mars and Moon, a research led by University of Warwick (UoW) is aiming at harvesting solar power for the purpose. In a study published in Nature Communications, scientists are assessing a new technique which could convert renewable, green energy from outside the Earth's atmosphere. They are taking advantage of photosynthesis — the chemical process plants undergo every day to create energy — to help the space industry become more sustainable. The UoW research involves the use of special semiconductors to absorb sunlight on Moon and Mars, hoping to support and sustain human life on the martian and lunar surfaces. These artificial photosynthesis devices undergo the same processes which keep plants alive on Earth — they convert water into oxygen using only sunlight while recycling carbon dioxide. These systems can also be integrated in space flight, providing the advantage of directly using solar power. This, the researchers say, would help in replacing the much heavier life supporting equipment currently in use in traditional space flights as well as the International Space Station. This would also make space travel more efficient as well as cost-effective. The UoW researchers are also aiming to make the devices in such a way that they can be installed on the lunar and martian surfaces to harvest green energy to help power rockets and complement life support systems for the production of oxygen and other chemicals as well as the recycling of carbon dioxide. The researchers hope that their research works provide gainful insights into improving the efficiency of the devices to also help optimise similar processes in applications on Earth as well as improve the performance of traditional solar cells in space and on terrestrial domains.

COSMIC GIFT

ASTEROIDS, THE 'WATER DELIVERY BOYS' FOR EARLY EARTH

Evidence has finally emerged that liquid water could be more common in asteroids than earlier thought, and that Earth's massive oceans started forming due to asteroid impacts on this planet in its formative stages. Strong evidence of this was discovered when planetary science researchers at University of Arizona Lunar and Planetary Laboratory carried out detailed analysis of the samples that the Japanese Hayabusa mission in 2005 brought back in 2010. What started the quest towards this breakthrough finding were tiny salt grains — sodium chloride, or table salt — about twice the diameter of the human hair in the rock samples that the mission brought back from the 2,000-feet-long, 750 feet wide asteroid named Itokawa, a peanut-shaped near-Earth asteroid on which the Hayabusa spacecraft had touched down to collect samples. The evidence of water on asteroids is based on a sound deduction. The researchers found alterations in a vein of plagioclase, a sodium-rich silicate mineral, running through the sample, enriched with sodium chloride. Alterations in such veins are known to occur only in the presence of water molecules. The researchers say that the observed association of the texture of the veins with sodium and chlorine is strong evidence that water coursed through them on asteroids like Itokawa, and that many more asteroids in the vicinity of the inner planets — Mercury, Venus and Earth — could have varying quantities of water molecules on them. The scientists feel that as the inner planets formed in the cloud of gas and dust in the Sun's vicinity, the super-high temperatures were not conducive for water vapour to condense. So delivering water to Earth had to be from outside, with the 'delivery boys' being the water-bearing asteroids which moved in to deposit water molecules on Earth, leaving the rest to terrestrial chemistry to subsequently form large water bodies like the oceans as the planet cooled.

Coal transport time cut by half as new freight corridor takes off

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

AFTER years of sustained efforts, the Dedicated Freight Corridor Corporation of India (DFCCIL), a part of Indian Railway, has achieved a major milestone with the commissioning of the 27 km Ahraura-DDU (Deen Dayal Upadhaya) leg of Eastern Freight Corridor (EFC). It has run the first train on this newly commissioned section.

Notably, the DFCCIL, with the commissioning of the 27 km stretch of eastern dedicated freight corridor, has succeeded in forming a 'diamond necklace' circle of dedicated freight transportation from Sonnagar under DDU to Sanadan in the West, covering a total earmarked rail route of more than 1,875 km.

"Henceforth, freight trains carrying goods including coal and others will have seamless connectivity while reaching destinations in a shorter time without any disruption in between the destination and the originating points. The accelerated movement of containers and minerals between Eastern India and ports of Western India bypassing Delhi-NCR has got a major pace," said RK Jain, managing director of the DFCCIL on Thursday.

Jain claimed that with the commissioning of a 27 km new stretch with other commissioned parts of the corridor, the seamless connectivity from Sonnagar in Bihar to Sanand in Gujarat has been established.

Highlighting the benefits of the entire stretch of double-lined dedicated freight corridor, Jain said the transportation time for coal to power plants of northern India in case of urgency will largely reduce by half. He also said that 70 per cent of freight trains load of the Indian Railway will come out on the entire commissioned stretch of the dedicated freight corridor for seamless movements in near future, giving a major increase in the services of passenger trains and their running punctuality.

To date, more than 200 freight trains transport about 1.15 million gross tonnes of goods daily, running through the Indian Railway's dedicated freight corridors.

"The entire double-railway tracks on the dedicated freight corridor have been electrified. We have a plan to cover the entire dedicated freight corridor of the railway now commissioned, with an anti-collision device called 'Kavach' in the coming days," Jain said.

THE PASSAGE TO SAVING TIME

More than 200 freight trains transport about 1.15 million gross tonnes of goods daily running through the Indian Railway's dedicated freight corridors.

Time is money: Transportation time for coal to power plants of northern India in case of urgency will largely reduce by half

Relief to Rlys: India Railway's 70% of freight trains load will come out on the entire commissioned stretch of dedicated freight corridor for seamless movements in near future

Electrified: The entire double-railway tracks on dedicated freight corridor have been electrified

33 academics ask NCERT to drop their names from textbooks

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THIRTY-THREE noted academicians, including those from the University of Hyderabad, University of Mysore, Jawaharlal Nehru University and Delhi University, have written to the National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT) to drop their names from the political textbooks, saying their "collective creative effort is in jeopardy."

A week ago, political scientists Yogendra Yadav and Suhas Palshikar had written to the NCERT, asking the same.

All the 33 academicians, which also included Kailash KK and Manjari Katju, both from University of Hyderabad; Alex M George, independent researcher in Kerala, and Muzaffar Assadi, faculty of arts and professor at University of Mysore, were members of the textbook committee in 2006-07.

In the letter to the NCERT director Dinesh Prasad Saklani, they said, "We have been following with growing concern, and increasing alarm, the public discussion on NCERT's unilateral attempts to modify and revise textbooks produced collaboratively by scholars from across the country."

"The political scientists who contributed to this effort came from multiple perspectives and had varied ideological positions. Yet, we were able to work together to produce what is, by any measure, a truly remarkable set of school textbooks in political science. The pedagogic strategy that was adopted was, over several months, collectively deliberated upon and agreed to. We now believe that this creative collective effort is in jeopardy," the letter said.

> We have been following with growing concern, and increasing alarm, the public discussion on NCERT's unilateral attempts to modify and revise textbooks
> Academics' letter

The letter said that the NCERT is now making changes to the textbooks. These involve "deletions of sentences and removal of some sections (even chapters) considered unacceptable with emphasis given to others considered desirable. The decision of who decides what is unacceptable and what is desirable has been kept rather opaque."

'Over 50% of elderly women illiterate, abused'

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

OVER half of the elderly women in India were never employed. Most of them live with their families. Half of them are illiterates. These are some of the findings of the latest report of HelpAge India about the state of women aged above 60 in the country.

The study, which was released on Wednesday, also showed that a little over half of those surveyed women (54 per cent) were married, while the remaining were widows, which further added to their emotional and physical abuse.

Fifty-two per cent of these women acknowledged elder abuse, of which 16 per cent said they faced physical abuse. Disrespect and emotional abuse are the second most common forms of ill treatment.

The HelpAge study 'Women and Ageing: Invisible or Empowered' is based on a survey of 7,500 older women in 20 states including Kerala, Karnataka, Telangana, Tamil Nadu and Odisha; two Union Territories of Delhi and Chandigarh; and five metros including Chennai, Hyderabad and Bengaluru.

Most of the women surveyed felt that they were discriminated against because they were widows. Even higher numbers of them said they depended on others for crucial decisions, said the report.

Failing health was a major issue with older women. Around half of them suffered from at least one chronic illness, but 64 per cent of them had no insurance coverage.

Putting the study in context, the report said that "between 2015 and 2030, the world's elderly population (aged 60 and above) is set to increase by around 56 per cent. This would mean that the aged cohort will reach a strength of nearly 1.4 billion individuals, thus comprising almost 17 per cent of the global population."

In the digital age, 24 per cent of elderly women said the time spent by their children with them was insufficient. The report said measures should be taken for the treatment of chronic illnesses of older women, and technology-based health solutions should be promoted. It said that abuse could be addressed through an extensive campaign.

"It is a stark reality that women, as they become older, tend to become neglected and are often invisible. Women aged above 60 comprise 11 per cent of the total women population in 2021 and it will become 14 per cent by 2031 (10 crore of 72 crore)," said Rohit Prasad, CEO, HelpAge India.

FCI responds to K'taka objection to Centre's tweaked policy on grains sale

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @New Delhi

BACKING the Union government's decision to discontinue sale of stocked grains to state governments, the Food Corporation of India (FCI) on Thursday said that offloading grains into the market would help control inflationary trends while ensuring the stock position of grains at a comfortable level.

The Centres' decision had invited criticism from the Congress-led Karnataka government. On June 12, Karnataka government had reached an agreement to procure 2.28 lakh metric tonnes (LMT) of rice at ₹3,400/quintal for its ambitious 'Anna Bhagya Programme' to provide free 10 kg rice to eligible families below poverty line. The scheme was part of its poll promise.

Interestingly, on June 13, the Ministry of Consumer Affairs, Food and Public Distribution, issued an order to dispose off wheat and rice into the market, and discontinue sale of grains to state governments, as steps to control inflation.

The next day, the Karnataka government criticised the Centre for the decision. Moreover, Karnataka offered higher prices than the FCI-fixed reserve price for rice, which is ₹3,100 per quintal for private players.

Congress spokesperson Jairam Ramesh said that the Karnataka government will make all efforts to ensure that the Anna Bhagya Programme is implemented and 10 kg of free food grains will be provided to poor families.

However, the FCI emphasized the need to maintain the comfortable food reserve and judicious release of grains into the market. The imposition of stock limits and the latest steps of the government have reduced the retail price of wheat by 2.06 per cent.

The government said that these decisions were already taken at an interministerial meeting the previous week. It only needed to be made clear about how the FCI will reach an agreement with Karnataka.

"The decision was not taken abruptly. The interministerial panel meeting held on June 8 had recommended that there is a need to maintain sufficient stocks for market intervention, and to control the prices of wheat and rice through Open Market Sale Scheme," said Subodh Kumar Singh, additional secretary, Dept of Food and Public Distribution.

Deploy central forces in 48 hours: HC to poll panel

Bengal violence continues as 2 killed in firing on last day of filing papers

THE Calcutta High Court on Thursday directed the State Election Commission (SEC) to deploy central force personnel across the state within 48 hours for panchayat elections slated to be held on July 8 as violence continued unabated during the filing of nominations.

Meanwhile, two persons were killed in firing on the last day for filing nominations. The government is, however, yet to confirm the two deaths.

Chief minister Mamata Banerjee said that the Trinamool Congress was not involved in any violence, and instead held the Indian Secular Force (ISF), a political outfit floated ahead of the 2021 Assembly elections, and the CPM responsible for the clashes.

"Our party is not involved in any violence. In Bhangar, it is the ISF, and in Chopra, North Dinajpur, CPM is responsible for what happened on Thursday," she said.

One person was allegedly shot dead in Chopra when CPM and Congress supporters were going to the office of the local block development officer for filing nomination.

"TMC supporters assembled on the road attacked our supporters and opened fire in which one of our supporters was killed and two others received injuries," said Left Front chairman Biman Bose.

In Bhangar, South 24-Parganas, a 24-year-old man was allegedly shot dead and the ISF claimed that the deceased was a supporter of his party. During the hearing in the HC, Kalyan Banerjee who appeared for the state poll panel said the election commission asked for police personnel from other states and that there would be no need for the deployment of central forces for panchayat polls.

The HC division bench, comprising Justice T S Shivagnanam and Justice Uday Kumar, noted that a direction of deploying central forces in sensitive areas, identified by the state poll panel, was passed on Tuesday but no appreciable steps were taken in this regard.

While the state election commission submitted that it may take a couple of days to identify sensitive areas, the court observed that taking more time would only cause more damage and would not help the "purity of the election process".

The poll panel was thus directed to requisition the deployment of central forces within 48 hours of the court's judgment.

Mahapanchayat in U'khand town foiled by cops, tension persists

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

THE Uttarkashi police on Thursday foiled a 'mahapanchayat' called by Hindutva organisations to press for their specific demand for a complete ban on the social and business activities of a particular community in Purola.

The Nainital High Court has taken a strong stand during the hearing on this matter on Thursday and has sought a reply from the government within 3 weeks.

A division bench of Chief Justice Vipin Sanghi and Justice Rakesh Thapliyal directed the state government to take strict action as per law in such cases. The high court ordered the state government to ban events like Mahapanchayat and register cases against the Hindu organisations. The HC directed, "No one shall participate in TV or social debates". The High Court also told the government that no poster banners will be put up in the case.

Traders' organisations in the Yamuna valley are furious with Section 144 imposed by the administration to stop the mahapanchayat in Purola. Major markets in Barkot, Nagaon, Purola, Mori and Damta remained completely closed on Thursday. Shops have been closed in Purola and adjoining towns since May 26.

Yogi: Events before unveiling of Ram temple from Diwali

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

ANNOUNCING that the ceremonies to dedicate Ram Temple to people of India would commence with 'Deepotsav' by lighting 21 lakh earthen lamps on Diwali eve in Ayodhya, UP CM Yogi Adityanath said that it would culminate in the consecration of the idol of Ram in his own temple in January next year.

While addressing a public rally at Yogiraj Bharat ji's Taposthali Nandigram, Bharatkund in Ayodhya on Thursday to mark the completion of nine-year tenure of PM Modi, CM Yogi said : "One of the milestones will be the consecration of Ram Lalla in his own temple after a wait of 500 years. This historic event is scheduled for January, next year, and it will be led by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, elevating Ayodhya's significance on a global scale."

He said that each and every household of the temple town in addition to the Ghats, Muthh-temples, Suryakund, and Bharat Kund would be illuminated with the earthen lamps to resurrect the glory of Treta Yug when Lord ram had established the utopian state.

Yogi's announcement comes amid reports of the Temple Trust's invite to PM Modi to inaugurate the Ram temple giving him three auspicious dates between January 17-24 suitable to his availability. However, the final approval from the PM office is still awaited.

The CM appealed to the BJP MPs to get associated with programmes and campaigns that were proposed to be organised in Ayodhya in the days to come. Presenting ambitious development plans for Ayodhya, Yogi claimed that the temple town was the only city in the country where development projects worth ₹32,000 crore were going on simultaneously.

"The intent is to transform Ayodhya into one of the most beautiful cities of the world," said the CM. After the completion of all the development projects, Ayodhya would be one of the most sought after destinations of spiritual tourism with the construction of the Ram Temple, Yogi said.

New bonanza for Bihar MLAs and MLCs

The Bihar government has announced an increase in development fund for MLAs and MLCs from existing `3 crore to `4 crore annually. The cabinet passed the resolution to this effect on June 13. Now MLAs and MLCs can use more funds under the Chief Minister Local Area Development Fund Scheme (CMLADS). The hike will be effective from the currently financial year 2023. This will enable the lawmakers of the state to carry out more development works in their respective constituencies. Thus, CM, who presided over the cabinet meeting, fulfilled a long pending demand of the lawmakers.

Row over BJP state chief's degree

Ruling Janata Dal (United) questioned the degree — Doctorate of Literature (D Litt) — of Bihar Bharatiya Janata Party chief Samrat Choudhary. Claiming that Choudhary's degree was fake, chief minister Nitish Kumar's party gave a 72-hour ultimatum to him to clarify on it, failing which it would expose him. To buttress his point, JD(U) MLC Neeraj Kumar cited Choudhary's affidavit to Election Commission of India. BJP state president, however, clarified that he was awarded D Litt by California Public University, USA, in 2019. But it was given in the name of Rakesh Kumar, his second name.

CM faces security breach once again

Chief minister Nitish Kumar faced another security lapse recently. Two youths riding a motorbike in 'laharia cut style' came between chief minister and his carcade when he was on his routine morning walk from his official residence 1, Anney Marg to Circular Road in the highly protected area of the state capital on Thursday. The bikers, coming at the CM with full speed, breached the security cover and came just in front of Nitish, who jumped on the pathway and saved himself from getting hit. The bikers were caught by security personnel and later detained for interrogation. The incident exposed the security around the CM.

'MODERN FORENSIC CENTRE CAN HELP COUNTER MILITANCY IN J&K'

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

A state-of-the-art investigation centre that can effectively process and study all crimes could be India's biggest counter to militancy, said Dr Dinesh Rao, professor of forensic sciences at the All India Institute of Medical Sciences.

Dr Rao, who is in Jammu and Kashmir, told TNIE that delays in forensic investigation are not acceptable, whether it's because laboratories are located far away or due to bureaucratic delays. To overcome delays, a one-stop shop for hi-tech investigation is the answer to deal with militancy that has plagued the region, and can ensure justice in every case.

Statistics reveal that 103 militants were killed during counter-militancy operations in 2018, 123 in 2019 and 85 in 2020. However, the number increased to 160 in 2021. In the past 10 years, the number has crossed more than 1,000 deaths, and investigations reveal that many of those dead are persons of foreign origin, meaning they are from across the border, he said.

One serious problem is that most of those dead are mere operatives, while their recruiters and those controlling the operations are never touched because of delays or inconclusive investigation, Rao said. Forensic analysis, narco-analysis or ballistic analysis which should be completed in a few days, take 6-8-months or more because it is done by labs outside the state.

For a thorough 360-degree investigation, he suggested that all cases be investigated speedily at a single facility in Jammu & Kashmir. The facility should be set up where all specialised investigation can be carried out early, preferably when the trail is still hot.

"A modern forensic institute wherein all services are available will help secure evidence, examine it and have it analysed at different scientific laboratories under one roof. The chain of custody is shortened and the final report is made available early," Dr Rao said.

AIIMS forensic medicine department is capable of handling such challenges with the existing faculty members, and with the support of the government, AIIMS can establish a top-class forensic institute here, he added.

However, Major General M C Nanjappa, who previously headed the North Western command in Jammu and Kashmir, said there are problems setting up such a facility there. Groups supporting terror clandestinely exert pressure on the police, prosecution and even judicial processes to ensure that militants or terror-accused are not punished, and setting up such a facility will need to ensure that all the professionals who work there are not compromised.

Countering this, Dr Rao said, "When mafia elements exert pressure in Mumbai or other places, safeguards are adopted by the systems, and the same remedies need to be adopted here also."

Breaking deadlock of 21 months, Leh & Kargil bodies to hold talks with Centre

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

ENDING a 21-month-long stalemate in talks, the representatives of Leh Apex Body (LAB) and Kargil Democratic Alliance (KDA), the amalgams spearheading the agitation for the grant of statehood and the 6th Schedule status for Ladakh Union Territory, would be holding a dialogue with Union MoS Home in New Delhi on June 19.

KDA co-chairman Asgar Ali Karbalaie told this newspaper that the Centre has invited the LAB and KDA leaders for talks in the national capital on June 19. The government, he said, has no agenda for the talks. The talks between the Centre and Ladakh leaders are taking place after a deadlock of 21 months. On August 29, 2021, the Ladakh leaders and Union Minister of State for Home Nityanand Rai held talks in Leh to discuss the demands of the Ladakhis.

Karbalaie said a six-member delegation from Ladakh comprising three leaders each from LAB (Thupstan Chhewang, Chering Dorjay Lakruk and Nawang Rigzin Jora) and KDA (Qamar Ali Akhoon, Asgar Ali Karbalaie and Sajjad Kargili) would be meeting the Union MoS for Home on June 19.

He said during the meeting the LAB and KDA would put their 4-point agenda — statehood for Ladakh, constitutional safeguards under 6th schedule status, separate Lok Sabha seats for Kargil and Leh districts and reservation of jobs for locals – before the MoS Home.

"We are hopeful of positive development. It is for the first time that the Centre has called LAB and KDA leaders for serious talks. We will be going to meeting with a positive mind," said KDA co-chairman.

The Ladakh UT comprises Buddhist-dominated Leh and Muslim-dominated Kargil districts. After Article 370's abrogation and bifurcation of J&K into two UTs on August 5, 2019, Kargil staged protests against scrapping of J&K's special status and bifurcation of J&K. Leh people cheered and celebrated the move. However, in Leh, public and political parties demand the safeguarding of jobs, land and statehood.

THE DEMANDS

Statehood for Ladakh, constitutional safeguards under 6th Schedule status, separate Lok Sabha seats for Kargil and Leh districts and reservation of jobs for locals

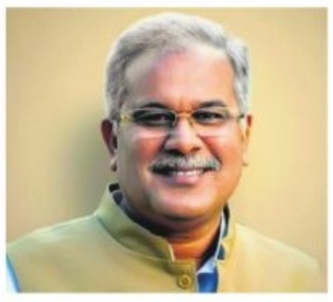

We are hopeful... It is for the first time that the Centre has called LAB and KDA leaders for serious talks. We will be going into the meeting with a positive mindset.

Credit war erupts over welfare schemes in C'garh

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

THE opposition BJP and the Congress are at odds over the names of the state government schemes implemented in Chhattisgarh. The BJP has alleged that the Bhupesh Baghel government has gone ahead by taking over the programmes of the Centre and counting them with different names while executing them.

The allegations of "credit snatching" have come from BJP state in-charge Om Mathur, who is spearheading the month-long 'Maha Jansampark Abhiyan'— the campaign aimed to highlight the nine years of achievements of the Modi government. He said there were several welfare programmes of the Central government but these were being counted as the state government schemes by simply re-christening them.

The BJP accused the ruling Congress of attempting to garner political mileage. The Congress retorted by listing out 51 state government schemes for the BJP with a challenge to prove its argument.

"The BJP should review and clarify if there is any trace of the programme launched by the Centre among these 51 schemes of the Congress government," said Sushil Anand Shukla, in-charge Congress media cell. He affirmed all the 51 state programmes remain funded and executed by the state government.

The Congress contended that most schemes run by the Modi government are actually the programmes of the earlier UPA-led Centre.

The rechristening of names of schemes in Chhattisgarh is not new. In February 2019, the BJP raised the issue when the Congress government renamed five schemes of the previous BJP government identified after Jan Sangh leader Pt Deendayal Upadhyay alleged political vindictiveness. The Congress had then justified the move, saying the earlier BJP government in 2004 had renamed schemes that were named after Indira Gandhi and Rajiv Gandhi.

Meanwhile, the BJP has devised its plan of action to corner the state by holding protest marches and demonstrations in the coming months. "We have carried out extensive discussions over the ground report that the party has assiduously prepared with feedback from all 90 Assembly seats", said a senior BJP leader.

Earlier last month, caught in the midst of a series of raids by the Enforcement Directorate and the Income Tax department against officers in his government, Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel alleged that Central agencies were pressuring people to "take his name" and implicate him. With elections in his state less than six months away, Baghel said that the charges had no ground, but expressed confidence that the allegations would have no impact on the polls.

The Assembly polls are due in Chhattisgarh's for the 90-member Assembly around November this year. In the current Assembly, the strength of the ruling Congress is 71, BJP has 14 seats and the rest belong to the BSP and Jogi Congress (JCCJ).

Congress dare

The Congress has listed 51 state govt schemes for the BJP. "The BJP should review and clarify if there is any trace of the programmes launched by the Centre among these 51 schemes of the Congress government," said Sushil Anand Shukla, in-charge Congress media cell.

J&K's rising drug menace: Parents told to submit affidavit saying kids are sober

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

AFTER a surge in drug abuse in Valley and a study revealing that use of drug abuse among youngsters is increasing, the administration in border district of Kupwara in Jammu and Kashmir have asked parents of the students, who would be seeking admission in government schools, to submit an affidavit saying their wards are not involved in any drug related activities.

The students have been warned that their admission would be cancelled if found involved in the use of drugs.

In a circular issued by Chief Education Officer (CEO) Kupwara Abdul Hamid Fani, it was stated that as the admission process has commenced for students of Class IX, X, XI, and XII, the heads of high schools and higher secondary schools are instructed to obtain an affidavit from parents confirming that their child is not involved in any drug-related activities.

It stated that in case the student is found in any such activities, the admission of the student will be cancelled immediately.

EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

The circular by the CEO is seen as a major step towards making schools in the border district drugs-free. Kupwara is close to Line of Control (LoC) and security agencies have been saying Pakistan is pushing drugs into J&K through LoC.

There has been a surge in drug abuse in the Valley with the religious leaders, politicians and civil society demanding that authorities should take concrete measures to prevent youth from falling into drug abuse.

The administration has already directed all 10 Deputy Commissions of Kashmir to do colour coding of the villages in their districts according to the number of individuals involved in substance use.

The villages would be labeled as green, yellow and red depending upon severity of drug abuse in the hamlets. With the drug addicts using abandoned buildings for substance use, Deputy Commissioners have also been asked to divert abandoned government buildings or unutilized buildings to the nearby departments so that these structures shall not become hubs of drug addicts.

'Admissions would be cancelled if caught'

A circular issued by Chief Education Officer (CEO) Kupwara Abdul Hamid Fani stated that in case the student is found to be involved in any such activities, admission will be cancelled immediately. The circular by the CEO is seen as a major step towards making schools in the border district drugs-free.

No change in Russia's nuclear posture: NATO

However, it is worried about the Kremlin leaving arms limitation deals

BRUSSELS

NATO sees no sign that Russia has changed its nuclear posture, the head of the military alliance said on Thursday, after President Alexander Lukashenko claimed that Belarus has already received tactical nuclear weapons from Moscow.

In an interview on state television on Tuesday, Lukashenko brashly warned that he wouldn't hesitate to order their use if Belarus faced an act of aggression. Russian President Vladimir Putin has said the weapons will be deployed to Belarus next month and will remain under Moscow's control.

"We are, of course, closely monitoring what Russia is doing. So far, we haven't seen any changes in the nuclear posture that requires any changes in our posture," Stoltenberg said.

NATO's secretive nuclear defence planning group is set to meet on Friday. The meeting has long been planned and is not a reaction to recent developments, but the alliance is concerned about Putin's threats and his decisions to pull Russia out of important arms limitation treaties.

"Russia's nuclear rhetoric and messaging is reckless and dangerous," Stoltenberg said. "Russia must know that a nuclear war cannot be won and must never be fought." He noted that "Russia has invested heavily in new modern nuclear capabilities and also deployed more nuclear capabilities, including close to NATO borders, for instance, in high north."

Meanwhile, support mounted on Thursday for NATO Secretary-General Jens Stoltenberg to have his mandate at the head of the world's biggest security organisation extended yet again as Denmark's prime minister ruled herself out of the running.

Stoltenberg has been NATO's top civilian official since 2014. His term was due to expire last year but was extended to keep a steady hand at the helm after Russia's full-scale invasion of Ukraine in February 2022.

US President Joe Biden and his NATO counterparts are due to choose a successor when they meet for a summit in Vilnius, Lithuania on July 11-12.

NATO is keen to name a woman to the top post, and Denmark's prime minister, Mette Frederiksen, was thought to be a favourite after a meeting with Biden earlier this month.

In a televised interview on Thursday, Frederiksen said, "No, I am not on my way to NATO." But she did say that she would back Stoltenberg if he was willing to extend his mandate. AP

FRESH PRESSURE

IMF calls Pak's budget missed opportunity

ISLAMABAD

THE IMF has raised several issues in Pakistan's budget for the fiscal year 2023-24, calling it a "missed opportunity" but expressed its readiness to work with the country to refine the budget ahead of its passage in Parliament.

A day before its tabling, IMF Resident Representative for Pakistan, Esther Perez Ruiz, said Pakistan needed to satisfy the IMF on three counts, including the budget for the upcoming fiscal year before its board reviews whether to release at least some of the $2.5 billion pending disbursement under the 2019 Extended Fund Facility (EFF) set to expire at the June end.

In a statement, Ruiz said that a new tax amnesty scheme proposed by the government in the budget sets a 'damaging precedent' and runs against the programme's conditionality, the Dawn newspaper reported. The statement did not specify which particular scheme the IMF was referring to.

It also notes that the draft FY24 budget "misses an opportunity to broaden the tax base in a more progressive way, and the long list of new tax expenditures reduces further the fairness of the tax system and undercuts the resources needed for greater support for vulnerable BISP (Benazir Income Support Programme) recipients as well as development spending."

Ruiz further said that measures to address the energy sector's liquidity pressures could be included alongside the broader budget strategy, the report said.

Ruiz said the IMF remains engaged to discuss policies to maintain stability, and "it stands ready to work with the government in refining this budget ahead of its passage."

With reserves at critical levels for the past several months, Pakistan was expected to get around $1.2 billion from the IMF in October last year as part of the EFF's 9th review. But eight months later, that tranche has not materialised. PTI

Bilawal to travel to China and Japan to deepen ties

Pakistan Foreign Minister Bilawal Bhutto Zardari will embark on a two-nation visit to China and Japan from June 27 to deepen bilateral cooperation. He will travel to China in the last week of June to attend the 14th Annual Meeting of the New Champions, also known as the World Economic Forum's (WEF) "Summer Davos," to be held from June 27 to June 29 in China's Tianjin Municipality, official sources told The Express Tribune newspaper on Wednesday. Bilawal will also undertake a maiden visit to Japan in the first week of July. Japan is a key development partner of Pakistan.

GLENDA JACKSON, WHO MIXED ACTING WITH POLITICS, DIES AT 87

LONDON

GLENDA Jackson, a two-time Academy Award-winning performer who had a second career in politics as a British lawmaker before an acclaimed late-life return to stage and screen, has died at age 87.

Jackson's agent Lionel Larner said she died on Thursday at her home in London after a short illness. He said she had recently completed filming The Great Escaper, in which she co-starred with 90-year-old Michael Caine. Born into a working-class family 1936 in Birkhenhead, northwest England, Jackson trained at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London. She performed with the Royal Shakespeare Company—where she starred in the cutting-edge drama Marat/Sade directed by Peter Brook — and became one of the biggest British stars of the 1960s and 70s, winning two Academy Awards, for Women in Love in 1971 and A Touch of Class in 1974. AP

May goods trade deficit up at $22 bn

Exports decline 10.3% to $34.98 billion, falling for fourth straight month; imports dip 6.6%

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE merchandise trade deficit widened to a five-month high of $22.12 billion in May as goods exports declined 10.3% year-on-year to $34.98 billion, the government data showed.

This is the fourth straight month when exports contracted on account of global slowdown. Meanwhile, imports also witnessed a dip by 6.6% year-on-year (YoY) to $57.1 billion in May on account of decline in purchase of gems and jewellery, chemicals, cotton and vegetable oil, the data revealed.

Sequentially, the merchandise exports rose marginally, as it stood at $34.6 billion in April, while imports registered a rise of around 14% in May, as imports in April were recorded at $49.9 billion. In April, the merchandise trade deficit was $15.24 billion.

"India's trade performance, after witnessing very strong growth in 2022-23 has shown declining trends as compared to high base of last year as the pace of growth in global merchandise exports moderated significantly in 2023, as persisting geopolitical tensions and monetary tightening induced recessionary fears have led to a decline in consumer spending across advanced nations," Commerce Ministry said in a statement.

"Trade deficit has come down significantly. The total trade deficit is down by 35.41% in the first two months (April and May) of the current year," Sunil Barthwal, Commerce Secretary said while briefing the media on trade data. He also said that the Centre is working on a focused export strategy to give impetus to export growth and in this regard it is focusing on 40 countries. He also expressed hope that the slowdown condition may improve going forward and the demand would pick up.

While services exports stood at $25.30 billion, imports were estimated at $13.53 billion in May, as per the Government. Services imports contracted to $13.53 billion, around 11% down from $15.20 billion in May 2022.

"Services exports are looking positive. We are not worried about facing a slowdown there," Barthwal said.

The overall trade deficit (goods and services) narrowed to $10.35 billion in May as against $12.20 billion in the corresponding month of the last year.

Meanwhile, Barthwal also said that the trade data should be seen from the point of view of financial years instead of looking at on a sequential basis as that gives a better perspective of the trade trends.

Sebi attaches bank accounts of Mehul Choksi

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) has ordered the attachment of bank accounts and shares and mutual fund holdings of fugitive businessman Mehul Choksi to recover dues totalling ₹5.35 crore.

The decision comes after Choksi failed to pay the fine imposed on him in October 2022 by Sebi in a case pertaining to indulging in fraudulent trading in the shares of Gitanjali Gems.

Choksi, who was the chairman and managing director as well as part of the promoter group of Gitanjali Gems, is the maternal uncle of Nirav Modi. Both of whom are facing charges of defrauding state-owned Punjab National Bank (PNB) of more than ₹14,000 crore. Both Choksi and Modi fled India after the PNB scam came to light in early 2018.

IndiGo mkt share zooms to 61.4% due to rise in demand

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE country's largest airline IndiGo benefited the most from the crisis at Go First as its share in the domestic market surged to 61.4% in May 2023, up 3.9 percentage points from April 2023, latest data released by the aviation regulator Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) showed. Other airlines made limited gains.

Shares of IndiGo gained nearly 3% on Thursday to close the ₹2,419 on the BSE.

Go First, which is currently going through insolvency proceedings and hasn't made a single flight since May 3, saw its market share going down from 6.4% in April 2023 to 0.4% in May 23. The three Tata Group airlines — Air India, Vistara and AirAsia India — saw an increase of 1.4 percentage point month-on-month in their combined market share to 26.3% in May compared to 24.9% share in April. Akasa Air, one of India's newest airlines, registered a 0.8 percentage point increase in its market share to 4.8%.

However, the market share of SpiceJet, the Gurugram-based airline which is facing multiple financial headwinds, came down to 5.4% in May from 5.8% in April. According to the DGCA data, 1.32 crore passengers took a domestic flight in May, a growth of 15.2% higher year-on-year and a 2.5% jump from April. Despite the grounding of Go First, Air traffic continues to see growth from pre-Covid levels as in the pre-Covid of May 2019, domestic airlines had carried only 1.22 crore passengers.

IndiGo carried 81.10 lakh while the Tata Group airlines ferried a total of 34.80 lakh. SpiceJet passenger count stood at 7.20 lakh passengers, while Akasa Air flew 6.29 lakh in May. The shutdown of GoFirst in the peak summer travel season helped all the airlines to achieve a load factor of more than 90%, a key reason why airfares have sky-rocketed in recent times. Spicejet topped the passenger load factor list with 94.8%, followed by Vistara (93.2%) and Air Asia (92.8%).

Akasa saw a rise in its passenger load factor to 91.1% in May, from 73.6% in March and 84.9% in April.

Hero under MCA lens for alleged diversion of funds

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

COUNTRY'S largest two-wheeler manufacturer Hero Motocorp is under the government's lens with the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) initiating a probe against the company, as per reports.

The MCA has reportedly ordered probe in a case related to alleged diversion of funds via a related party vendor. The probe has been ordered in the "public interest" to probe the ownership structure of Hero MotoCorp and whether it controlled the third-party vendor. Shares of Hero dipped as much as 4.2% during Thursday afternoon trade following the report.

The company in a regulatory filing said it has not received any communication from MCA with regard to the media reports and hence cannot comment on the same. Hero added that they will provide all information, if and when it is sought from the Company by any regulatory authority.

"Hero MotoCorp, world's largest manufacturer of motorcycles and scooters,is a responsible, law abiding and much-admired Indian multinational, and known for following global best governance practices," the statement said. The fresh government order follows a preliminary inquiry conducted by Registrar of Companies. Last year, the company was in the middle of a tax evasion probe. Tax Department had conducted raids on multiple premises of the company - including group Chairman and CEO Pawan Munjal.

SAT asks Sebi to file response in 48 hrs in Zee case

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

THE Securities Appellate Tribunal (SAT) on Thursday refused to stay an interim order of the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi), which barred Subhash Chandra and his son Punit Goenka from holding directorial positions in any listed company.

A bench consisting of Justice Tarun Agarwala and presiding officer Meera Swarup asked the Sebi to file its response within 48 hours and posted the case for a final hearing on June 19. Punit Goenka filed an appeal against the Sebi order banning him and Essel Group chairman Subhash Chandra from holding any directorial or key management position. As per the plea, there was no show cause notice issued to them and the principles of natural justice were not followed before Sebi issued its order.

"We are of the opinion that passing an interim order at this stage would be virtually allowing the appeal," said the SAT bench. The market regulatory, in its interim order on Monday, barred Subhash Chandra and Punit Goenka from holding any key managerial position in any of its listed companies or subsidiaries for abusing their positions in the company and siphoning off funds for their own benefit.

Arguing for Goenka before the SAT, senior advocate Janak Dwarkadas, expressed concerns about Punit Goenka's reputation getting tarnished. He stated that the Sebi order is a sham and he can demolish the order with strong points. He emphasised that Punit Goenka has been the MD and CEO of ZEEL since 2008 and enjoys shareholder confidence. The SAT will now hear the case on Monday and take a decision.

Sebi's order will also affect the planned merger of Zee Entertainment with Sony Pictures Networks India.

The National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) will hear an application for the Zee-Sony merger on Friday. According to sources, ZEEL may make a plea to NCLT for deferment of hearing on the merger. As per the terms of the merger agreement, Goenka is supposed to be the managing director of the merged entity but the recent order by Sebi has barred him to hold any key post.

India's debt burden will remain stable if nominal GDP growth holds: Moody's

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

Amid the Opposition attack on the government's growing debt levels, a report from Moody's Investors Service has come as a big booster for the government on the issue. Moody's has said as long as nominal GDP growth holds, India's debt burden will be stable or decline slightly.

The report says fast-growing GDP at 11% in nominal terms is a key driver of its projections of a downward trend in its debt burden.

"Given the favourable gap it (GDP growth) creates against the average interest rate on debt, it enables the persistence of fiscal deficits with a contained debt burden. As in the past, the key determinant of fiscal strength and the credit profile will be debt affordability and in particular the proportion of revenue absorbed by interest payments," says the report.

Moody's feel that interest payments as percentage of revenue at 26% currently is a large proportion, which, if not further addressed via a continued broadening of the revenue base, will remain an important constraint on the government's ability to provide more support for growth and address developmental needs.

According to Moody's, India's total debt (Centre and states) as percentage of GDP will fall from 90% in 2020 to below 80% by 2025.

AAI plans more than ₹5,000 crore capital expenditure for current fiscal

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE Airports Authority of India (AAI) has planned a capital expenditure (capex) of more than ₹5,000 crore for the current financial year, a top government official told this newspaper.

The total outlay could exceed the last year's capex of ₹5,125 crore, he said, while adding that most of the expenditure will be met through internal sources. Post-Covid, there has been a surge in air traffic, and the capex will help those airlines, which are planning to add more planes this fiscal and the next year, the official stated."We will use the funds for the two Greenfield airports currently being constructed by the AAI- Hirasar, Rajkot and Dholera in Gujarat. We expect the Rajkot project will complete by December 2023, while the one in Dholera will be done by 2025," the official cited above said. He further added that the fund will also be used for the ongoing projects and air navigation services (ANS) which requires state-of-art technology like radar, satellite, ATC towers.

Currently, the AAI is revamping the airports in Kanpur, Tezu, Port Blair, Ayodhya, Surat, Jabalpur, Gwalior, Kolhapur, Dehradun Phase II, Pune, Gorakhpur, Darbhanga, Saharanpur, Fursatganj, Trichy, Tuticorn, Rewa, Leh, Goa, Vijayawada, Imphal , Patna and Chennai Phase-II.

"Most of the work will be completed by FY24 except the expansionary plans in Vijayawada, Goa, Imphal, Patna and Chennai Phase II by FY25,' the official added.

"We are making this significant investment to bring about transformation in the Indian aviation industry. We aim to enhance passenger experience and increase airport capacity. AAI's sovereign function is air navigation services which requires state-of-art technology and huge investments," the official said.

Mkt snaps 3-day winning streak as Fed signals more rate hikes

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

Domestic equity market snapped its three-day winning streak after the US Federal Reserve on Wednesday signalled more rate hikes this year.

The S&P BSE Sensex ended 310.88 points lower at 62,917.63, while the NSE Nifty 50 settled 67.80 points lower at 18,688.10.

Even as the Federal Reserve paused interest rate hikes in its latest policy meet, Chairman Jerome Powell tough stance that the central bank may go for further rate increases to bring inflation down to 2% spooked investor.

It is expected that the Fed would go for two rate hikes this year. Last week, the RBI had also said that it would take tight monetary actions to control inflation, indicating more rate hikes. Meanwhile, the European Central Bank increased its benchmark policy rate by another 25 basis points to a 22-year high on Thursday and signalled more hikes.

"After a rate hike pause, investors were expecting a more dovish stance but the Fed's comments on interest rates left the markets disappointed," said Shrikant Chouhan, Head of Research (Retail) at Kotak Securities.

Sonam Srivastava- Founder at Wright Research said that in the short term, low U.S. interest rates may drive more FIIs towards high-yielding markets like India, potentially fueling the ongoing market rally, particularly in small and mid-cap stocks. "The pause in rate hikes could also weaken the U.S. dollar, making Indian assets more attractive. However, the Fed's hawkish stance suggests potential future rate hikes, which could reverse FII flows if U.S. assets become more attractive. The hawkish stance could also impact investor risk appetite, potentially affecting FII flows," said Srivastava. On Thursday, FIIs bought (net) Indian equities worth Rs 3,085 crore, showed NSE data.

Despite macro headwinds, companies double down on Cloud, AI capabilities

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

DESPITE current macro headwinds, cloud remains a long-term investment priority for 70% of major corporations, said Tata Consultancy Services' recent report.

The IT major's global survey with 972 senior executives at companies exceeding $1 billion in annual revenue from multiple sectors across Asia, Europe and North America finds that 75% of respondents invested in Artificial Intelligence (AI) and machine learning capabilities over the past two years, while 78% plan to do so over the coming 12-24 months.

Both technologies are highly dependent on access to large amounts of data and scalability through the cloud.

Interestingly, more than a third of respondents (37%) have made progress in their goals for cloud-enabled innovation in the form of new business models.

Krishnan Ramanujam, President, Enterprise Growth Group, TCS, said, "This latest global study strongly affirms that there is no business strategy without a cloud strategy. A desire for greater efficiency, resilience, and flexibility drove early cloud adoption."

"Cloud is now the unifying digital fabric of every enterprise, fuelling powerful technologies—from generative AI to edge and quantum computing—and is ushering the next wave of innovations now and into the future," he added.

Despite significant progress in recent years, the study reveals that businesses still have a long way to go to unlock the full power and potential of cloud.

Meanwhile, HCLTech and Microsoft announced the expansion of their strategic partnership which will help enterprises leverage generative AI.

Leveraging HCLTech's domain expertise across various industries and Microsoft's Azure OpenAI Service, clients will benefit from innovative solutions that enhance employee productivity, streamline IT operations, accelerate application development and optimize business processes, HCLTech said.

Also, HCLTech will establish a Microsoft Cloud Generative AI Center of Excellence (GenAI CoE) focused on developing industry-specific solutions leveraging the power of generative AI to offer data-driven experiences to customers.

The company will also train its employees in advanced AI technologies.

Eyewear brand Lenskart raises $100 mn from private equity firm ChrysCapital

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

EYEWEAR brand Lenskart has raised $100 million from private equity firm ChrysCapital. With this, the total capital infusion in the company stood at about $850 million in the past year.

The investment will be made through primary and secondary share purchases. This fund raising comes at a time when start-ups are struggling to raise funds. The company said this investment will help the eyewear brand to expand.

A few months ago, the eyewear company managed to raise $500 million from Abu Dhabi Investment Authority (ADIA). "ChrysCapital is excited to back a strong execution-focused management team that has established dominant market leadership in the eyewear segment. Lenskart has been instrumental in developing this market. With the acquisition of Owndays, there is an opportunity for Lenskart to expand across 10+ Asian countries in addition to the already large Indian market," said Rajiv Batra, SVP at ChrysCapital.

Founded in 2010, the omnichannel eyewear retailer has a presence in the UAE, Singapore, apart from other geographies. In June last year, the company acquired a majority stake in Japanese direct-to-consumer eyewear brand Owndays.

Lenskart had said the acquisition will take the group's reach to 13 markets in Asia including India, Singapore, Thailand, Taiwan, the Philippines, Indonesia, Malaysia and Japan. It has over 2,000 stores of which 1,500 are in India and the rest in Southeast Asia and the Middle East. It said the new factory will play a significant role in manufacturing the 20 million pairs of eyewear that the company plans to ship next year.

Teammate killed during ongoing violence in state as Manipur hockey team takes part in Jr Men National C'ship

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

UNDER normal circumstances, Laishram Ribaldo Meitei would have been part of the Manipur team that's competing at the 13th Hockey India Junior Men National Championship in Rourkela. However, things are far from normal in Northeastern state. A few days after violence erupted in Manipur last month, Ribaldo was shot dead in Imphal East. The defender had captained the state team in the sub-junior national the previous year in Goa.

Ribaldo is no more but the Manipur boys made sure they pay tribute to the departed soul by thrashing Jammu and Kashmir 16-1 in their first match on Wednesday. The overwhelming win might be enough to lift their confidence ahead of the team's second match against Gujarat on Friday but deep down in their heart they are anxious and restless. They are worried as they don't want their near and dear ones to meet the same fate back home where fresh violence killed at least nine people late on Tuesday night.

"We are trying our best to stay competitive for the tournament but how can someone forget about his family and friends when the violence is claiming lives every day," said Thiyam Roshankumar Singh, Manipur team manager.

The fact that the team comprising 18 players reached Odisha for the tournament is a miracle in itself. Manipur Hockey organised selection trials in the middle of violence and the subsequent curfew clamped to contain the unrest. India player Chinglensana Singh Kangujam played a key role in holding trials. But the challenge was far from over as the team has to reach the venue to take part in the championship. "We requested players and their respective families to arrange funds so that they can fly out of Imphal for Kolkata. Basically, crowdfunding made it possible. The local leaders, families and friends donated generously. Once they reached Kolkata, they boarded a train for Rourkela," Chinglensana, who is scheduled to join the team on Friday, told this daily from Manipur. Chinglensana is a junior national selector and also a member of Manipur Hockey's Athletes' Commission.

The Manipur junior hockey team which is currently participating in the nationals

Laishram Ribaldo Meitei was shot dead during the violence last month

In fact, the players arranged funds for their jerseys for the tournament. They paid the entry fee to the organisers only after reaching Odisha. "We knew a few vendors and once the team was selected, we informed one of them to get the jerseys ready. One of our players collected them before flying out," said Roshankumar, who had played sub-junior and senior nationals for Manipur before completing the NIS diploma course and Hockey India Level 1 coaching course.

Manipur are placed in group D alongside hosts Odisha, J&K and Gujarat. The table toppers will progress to the quarterfinals. Despite the crisis in Manipur, Roshankumar is optimistic they will make it to the knockout round. "Today (Thursday) we executed the plans we have made to counter Odisha, which will be our toughest match in the group. If we can implement the strategies successfully during the match, we can advance to the quarterfinals. We are taking it one match at a time. Overall we have to win five matches to reach the final. If we can do that, it will be a perfect homage for Ribaldo and others who have lost their lives during the violence in the state," said the team manager.

EXPRESS SPECIAL

Roshankumar was with the sub-junior women's team in Odisha last month when Ribaldo was shot dead. They had organised prayer for him on that occasion as well.

Once the tournament is over on June 22, the team has to return to Manipur. But for that as well, the team has to arrange funds. "Yes, we have to do that as we have exhausted the funds to reach here. But before that, we need to keep winning and for it to happen, the players need to be in a good frame of mind. Every day the players are learning about the ongoing violence in the state. I try to motivate them. You cannot ask them to stop watching the news as they are anxious and worried. But so far the players have responded well. I hope they maintain this spirit throughout the tournament," signed off the manager.

Home burnt, no practice but boxers at youth meet

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

HOUSE burnt down, training from relief camp before leaving, missing practice for weeks and living with constant fear... these are some of the ordeals boxers from Manipur had to go through before flying out of the state to participate at the Youth Men's National Boxing Championships in Gangtok, Sikkim.

Until the last moment, the boxers did not even know whether they would be able to reach the venue. The roads are all blocked. The only way they could have travelled out of Imphal was by air. "We had to book air tickets and ask them to assemble at the airport," said P Dhanajit Singh, the secretary of the Manipur Amateur Boxing Association.

TK Singh, the manager, who accompanied the team said it was not easy. One player L Rahul Singh is from Sugnu, a small village south of Imphal which is one of the worst affected areas in the state. His house was burnt down and he came with just his pants and t-shirt on. He was training from the relief camp, said TK Singh. "We did not have practice for more than a month now and it was showing at the championships," the manager said. "Rahul used to train out of relief camp." Unlike Rahul, other players are from in and around Imphal. Most of them trained at their home before joining the team. "Most of them are within 10 km radius of Imphal," he said. Some of the players who could manage to practice did on their own.

TK Singh also said that there was no funding from anywhere and they had to collect money from members and well-wishers. "Airfares are very high and bringing the players was not easy," he said. "We took a train from Guwahati to New Jalpaiguri Station and then taxis at ₹1000 per head," he said.

Rahul lost his bout on Thursday but the Manipur team is not upset. They are happy that they are able to participate. "The players are going through a traumatic phase and we can't expect more," said the manager. The players are anxious again. "Though they are in touch with their families after the fresh violence in Manipur they are anxious," he said.

Four 10,000m runners make Asiad cut off mark

TANMAY DAS @Bhubaneswar

IN a fine morning here, long distance runners thrived to put up a quality performance to grab eyeballs.

As many as four athletes in the men's 10,000 metre event bettered the Asian Games qualification mark (29:30.00 seconds) set by Athletics Federation of India (AFI) in the opening day of the National Inter-State Senior Athletics Championships at the Kalinga Stadium. It was Kartik Kumar from Uttar Pradesh who topped the charts with an effort of 29:01.84 secs. Gulveer Singh, also from UP, was not far behind with an effort of 29:03.78 secs. Not only did the UP duo better the Asiad qualification mark, they also improved the meet record of 29:06.17 secs. The former meet record was held by Surendra Singh since 2007. Kartik's delight was visible in his face. After this monumental effort, the 24-year-old has his sights on Asian Games, which is scheduled to be held from September 23 to October 8.

"My next goal is to win a medal at the Asian Games," Kartik said in a post-race interaction.

The race was certainly high-quality as Pritam Kumar of Delhi and Harman Jot Singh of Madhya Pradesh also had a creditable outing with both bettering the Asiad qualification mark. While third-placed Pritam clocked 29:22.36s, Harman clocked 29:26.86s. However, it should be noted that the AFI will be picking just two names for the upcoming Games.

Quartermiler Anjali Devi also put up a notable show during the women's 400m heats. The Haryana sprinter clocked 52.89 secs while winning heat one, breaching the Asian Games qualification mark in the process (52.96 secs).

RESULTS (ALL FINALS)

Men: 10,000m: Kartik Kumar (Uttar Pradesh) 29:01.84 secs, Gulveer Singh (UP) 29:03.78 secs, Pritam Kumar (Delhi) 29:22.36 secs. 20km race walk: Sandeep Kumar (Haryana) 1:27:12s, Servin S (Tamil Nadu) 1:28:21s, Hardeep (Haryana) 1:28:57s. Women: 10,000m: Seema (Himachal Pradesh) 34:20.01s, Sanjivani Jadhav (Maharashtra) 34:34.10s, Poonam Dinkar (Maharashtra) 34:45.42s. 20km race walk: Bhavna Jat (Rajasthan) 1:37:03s, Priyanka Goswani (UP) 1:40:33s, Vandana (Karnataka) 1:41:54s.

Returning Nirmala in semis

The ongoing championships is a vital event for athletes ahead of gruelling season ahead. It is the same for quartermiler Nirmala Sheoran, who is making a return after suspension.

The Haryana athlete clocked 55.07 sec in the heats, an effort that helped her qualify for the women's 400m semifinal. Nirmala was slapped with a four-year ban in 2019 for testing positive for banned substances. She maintained her innocence. "I was innocent. In our country, we are seriously lacking the sports science. Being a village girl, I never knew which supplements I should take or not. In the open market, plenty of such products are also available now. The athletes need a lot of guidance and proper education to avoid such incidents."

Ashes: Where Bazball meets World Test Champs

With The 2023 Ashes set to begin in Edgbaston on Friday, a look at some key talking points...

EYES ON CAPTAIN CUMMINS

When Pat Cummins took over as skipper, he took a stand against oil companies, stood up for his teammates against former players who came in support of the outgoing coach. He was called The Captain Woke and so on. Not for one he flustered, leading Australia to glory in the WTC final. He will look to replicate a similar success in The Ashes.

JIMMY, STILL GOING STRONG

When rock band Coldplay made a musical for the famous HBO series Game of Thrones, there was one for Tyrion Lannister's character, featuring Peter Dinklage. The lyric of the song goes — Some people's parts just ain't there long... but not me.. not me... I'm still going strong. If it were to be sung for a cricketer, none will fit the bill like James Anderson. 40 years 320 days old. 20 years of Test cricket. 685 scalps in 179 Tests. Yet, he is still going strong and will take the new ball with Stuart Broad Friday.

CAN BEN'S BAZBALL SURVIVE AUSTRALIA CHALLENGE?

England captain Ben Stokes announced his arrival in the 2013 Ashes at Perth with a counterattacking hundred that would have been called BazBall if it had happened today. Ten years on, he will be leading a team where all eleven will be looking to play like he did back then. Will it work against this Australian team in England?

Asia Cup to be organised in hybrid model from Aug 31

GOMESH S @Chennai

AFTER several months of speculations and meetings and discussions, the 2023 Asia Cup is finally set to happen between August 31 to September 17 in Pakistan and Sri Lanka, per the hybrid model proposed by the former. The Asian Cricket Council, on Thursday, announced that first four games of the tournament will happen in Pakistan before the rest of the tournament moves to Sri Lanka.

"We are delighted to announce that the Asia Cup 2023 will be held from 31st August to 17th September 2023 and will see the elite teams from India, Pakistan, Sri Lanka, Bangladesh, Afghanistan, and Nepal, compete in a total of 13 exciting ODI matches. he tournament will be hosted in a hybrid model with four matches being held in Pakistan, and the remaining nine matches being played in Sri Lanka," the ACC said in in a statement.

Initially named as host, the tournament was scheduled to take place in Pakistan. However, since the Indian cricket board said that they will not be able to send the team without the central government approval, Pakistan Cricket Board proposed a hybrid model where the inital phase not involving in Pakistan can take place there before moving to a different host nation.

After much deliberation, the Jay Shah-led ACC eventually accepted the proposal last week. The six-team two-group tournament will see the top two teams from each group will qualify for Super Four stage and top two teams from there will reach the final. The tournament will be played in 50-over format as a precursor to the ODI World Cup set to be played in India in October. Earlier, there were speculations as to whether the tournament could be held in the United Arab Emirates like 2022, but considering the format and the conditions, Sri Lanka was deemed to be a better option.

India will be playing all their matches in Sri Lanka. They last toured the island nation in 2021 and will be hoping to make the most of the conditions and opportunities they get there for their World Cup prep.

Egyptian dominance continues in Squash WC

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

EGYPT topped the Pool A with a creditable win over Malaysia in the Squash World Cup played at the Express Avenue Mall in Chennai on Thursday. In the third tie of the day, No 1 seed Egypt lived up to their top billing with a 3-1 win over No 4 seed Malaysia. Both sides progressed to the semifinals. Egypt's World No 42 Karim El Hammamy was in his element as he decimated Ong Sai Hung in just 15 minutes.

Malaysia's Aira Azman gave the No 4 seeds hope with an exciting win in the second match. In the third match, Aly Abou Eleinen put to rest Malaysia's hope of carrying forward the momentum. In the last match of the tie, Xin Ying Yee took a shock lead against Kenzy Ayman but the latter came back to secure the match.

Abhay Singh (L) in action against Tomotaka Endo on Thursday | M RAVIKUMAR

India vs Malaysia in semis

The India team, comprised of Abhay Singh, Joshna Chinappa, Saurav Ghosal and Tanvi Khanna, confirmed their qualification for the semifinal after Thursday's 3-1 victory over Japan.

The team got off to a poor start with Abhay losing in three games to Tomotaka Endo.

Fortunately for India, World No 10 Joshna did an incredible rescue act in the second match against Satomi Watanabe. Saurav earned a hard-fought 3-2 victory over Ryunosuke Tsukue followed by Tanvi Khanna's 3-0 win over Akari Midorikawa.

Results: Pool A: Australia bt Colombia 4-0, Egypt bt Malaysia 3-1. Pool B: South Africa bt Hong Kong 3-1, India bt Japan 3-1.

National record for cyclist Ronaldo at Asian meet

NEW DELHI: Indian cyclist Ronaldo Singh Laitonjam on Thursday created a new national record in men's spring qualification after clocking 9.877 seconds at the Asian Track Cycling Championship in Niali, Malaysia. Ronaldo finished 10th and qualified for Round of 16 in men's sprint.

India, Lebanon play out goalless draw

BHUBANESWAR: India missed the chances that came their way to settle for a goalless draw with Lebanon in the Intercontinental Cup football tournament here on Thursday. Continuing with his policy to make wholesome changes to his starting XI, head coach Igor Stimac benched a number of seniors including striker Sunil Chhetri and goalkeeper Gurpreet Singh Sandhu. Sandesh Jhingan wore the captain's armband.

Messi scores as Argentina beat Australia

AFP @Beijing

LIONEL Messi scored the quickest goal of his career as he guided Argentina to a 2-0 friendly win over Australia in Beijing on Thursday. The seven-time Ballon d'Or winner curled in from the edge of the area after just 79 seconds following slack defending by the Socceroos.

In front of a crowd of more than 50,000 adoring fans, Messi nearly notched a rapid second but lashed into the side netting from a tight angle.

The world champions eventually made their pressure count when German Pezzella headed in a cross to make it 2-0 in the 68th minute. Thousands greeted the Argentina captain's every touch with roars of anticipation that built to a crescendo when he put his team into their quick-fire lead.
